Description of Operations Financed:

The FY 2026 Operation and Maintenance (O&M) budget funds the day-to-day expenses in support of operational requirements for all Air Force core functions. O&M resources directly support essential combat enablers such as flying operations, cyberspace operations, intelligence, logistics, nuclear deterrence, search and rescue, and special operations activities. O&M funds are used to operate, sustain, and maintain aircraft, weapon systems, command and control systems, and airfield and base facilities, to achieve readiness goals and to improve the working and living conditions for Air Force personnel. Additionally, this funding purchases critical supplies, equipment and fuel, funds training and development of Airmen, and is the source of pay and benefits for many of the Air Force civilian personnel. The FY 2026 budget implements the Defense Department's fiscal guidance to empower Air Force Core Missions which in turn support the Interim National Defense Strategic Guidance (INDSG) and Secretary of Defense priorities.

Narrative Explanation of Changes:

The U.S. Air Force is focused on implementing the INDSG and the priorities of the Secretary of Defense. Aligned with the INDSG's three priority lines of effort to Defend the Homeland, Deter China in the Indo-Pacific, and Empower allies and partners to do more, the U.S. Air Force budget is guided by the Secretary of Defense message of Reestablishing Deterrence, Rebuilding Our Military, and Reviving the Warrior Ethos. All of this will be done with a focus on lethality, meritocracy, accountability, standards, and readiness. Furthermore, reform and optimization efforts will guide, prioritize, and maximize efficient in securing what we need now and in the future.

Air Force capabilities are inextricable from providing for the Nation's defense, and the Department continues to lead the joint team by developing and deploying critical capabilities in support of defense priorities. It does so through the execution of its mission statement: "Fly, Fight, and Win...Airpower Anytime, Anywhere." The Air Force brings unparalleled speed, agility, survivability, mobility, and strike to the joint fight while simultaneously providing command and control, reconnaissance, and deterrence capabilities. Simply put, no one else can do what the Air Force does, and without its capabilities, the joint force loses.

The Department of the Air Force continues to work tirelessly to balance risk between maintaining current readiness in support of Combatant Commanders while developing, building, and fielding the force needed for the future. The Department has shown its resolve and capability to continue executing the missions demanded by the Nation while constantly advancing to remain the world's premier air and space force. This evolution will not be easy, but it is necessary. The Department is continuously identifying the changes and investments needed to be successful. To best address these necessary changes, it must balance risk over time. The Air Force will develop and field new capabilities expeditiously while selectively divesting older platforms, to meet the pacing challenge while maintaining readiness. The Department must continuously drive towards readiness to be best prepared when called upon by the Nation.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force

The O&M appropriation supports both permanent and rotational deployments, exercises, forward presence, and other activities that contribute to maintaining deterrence and support other long-term strategic objectives. The Air Force's fielded forces are in constant global demand providing direct military advantage to combatant commands, the joint force, and allies and partners while supporting diplomatic and whole-of-government efforts. Our adversaries have presented pacing challenges as they invested in long-range precision strike capabilities that have put our forward airbases at risk. The FY 2026 budget invests in readiness and sustainment of fielded forces and continued support to allies and partners. Readiness hinges on the ability to operate, maintain, and sustain an aging fleet of aircraft while funding the flying hour program. Weapons system sustainment requirements continue to grow due to aging platforms and the acquisition of new, highly technical, and complex weapons systems.

The Air Force Operation and Maintenance budget request totals $62.4 billion and represents a price increase of $1.5 billion and a program growth of -$2.8 billion. Detailed changes by Subactivity Group are provided in the OP-5 Exhibits of this Justification Book. The total resources requested for Fiscal Year 2026 continues to build a more lethal and ready Air Force today, while fielding tomorrow's force faster and smarter. The Department is taking risk in legacy capacity with a leaner, more ready force, in order to invest in long term capacity. This force, funded in this budget, wins across the entire spectrum of military operations, in 2030 and beyond. The Air Force will deter if possible, and defeat if necessary, any adversary, in any domain. The Department looks forward to partnering with Congress to make the necessary choices now to assure future victory.

Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Overseas Operations Costs (OOC) funding accounted for in the budget total is $4.0 billion. Overseas Operations Costs (OOC) are those financed with former overseas contingency operations (OCO) funding.

The FY 2026 request for O&M, Air Force, includes $62,429,535 thousand of discretionary and $4,293,831 thousand of mandatory (reconciliation) for a total of $66,723,366 thousand to directly support warfighters' readiness.

Description of Strategic Readiness Financed:

The primary focus of the U.S. Air Force readiness funding prioritizes developing personnel, investing in modern technologies, and equipping current forces to ensure a competitive advantage in contested environments. Core readiness includes Primary Combat Forces, Combat Enhancement, Air Operations Training, Weapon System Sustainment, Flying Hour Program and Airlift Operations which are all crucial for projecting power, deterring adversaries, and maintaining the ability to fight both today and in the future. The core readiness accounts prioritize funds for penetrating airframes, modern munitions, survivable refueling, a hardened warfighting network, ensuring the Air Force has a lethal force and avoid unacceptable operational risks that leave the U.S. Air Force inadequately prepared for evolving threats.

The FY 2026 request for Readiness includes 34,799,924 thousand of discretionary and $1,718,346 thousand of mandatory (reconciliation) for a total of $36,518,270 thousand to directly support warfighters' readiness.

This activity funds Air Operations, Base Support, Flying Hour Program, and Primary Combat Forces representing the tip of the spear in global power projection. Primary Combat Weapons includes resources that support two legs of America's nuclear triad: Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles (ICBMs) and the bomber force. Electronic warfare and manned destructive suppression assets enhance the effectiveness of other operational weapons systems. Global Command, Control, Communication, Intelligence (C3I) and Early Warning resources provide Strategic Offensive C3I, Strategic Defensive C3I and Air Force-wide communications. The Air Force-Wide Communications programs support development of a survivable communications capability for worldwide Command and Control (C2) communications during pre-attack, trans-attack and post-attack periods. Finally, the Air Force Weather Program supports combat and specialized operations, management, readiness and sustainment of Air Force weather and limited space environmental capabilities and systems.

Budget Activity 01: Operating Forces - Major Program Changes:

The FY 2026 Operating Forces budget request of $49.2 billion represents a price increase of $1.1 billion and a program decrease of -$2.3 billion. Detailed changes by Subactivity Group are provided in the OP-5 Exhibits of this Justification Book.

The FY 2026 request for O&M, Air Force, includes $49,245,493 thousand of discretionary and $4,212,483 thousand of mandatory (reconciliation) for a total of $53,457,976 thousand to directly support warfighters' readiness.

Mobilization (BA-02)	3,817.3	132.7	149.9	4,099.9	200.3	-629.3	3,670.9

This activity funds the global mobility capability that sustains operations through a combination of rapid movement, establishment, and sustainment of combat forces anywhere in the world to deter and defeat aggression, or to provide humanitarian and peacekeeping assistance. The President, the Secretary of Defense, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the military Services, and DoD agencies depend heavily on Air Force mobility operations for essential cargo and troop movement in missions across the globe as a major instrument of U.S. national security policy.

Budget Activity 02: Mobilization - Major Program Changes:

The FY 2026 Mobilization budget request of $3.7 billion represents a price increase of $0.2 billion and a program decrease of -$0.6 billion. Detailed changes by Subactivity Group are provided in the OP-5 Exhibits of this Justification Book.

The FY 2026 request for O&M, Air Force, includes $3,670,877 thousand of discretionary and $38,863 thousand of mandatory (reconciliation) for a total of $3,709,740 thousand to directly support warfighters' readiness.

Training and Recruiting (BA-03)	3,179.4	81.7	-17.5	3,243.6	49.5	20.2	3,313.3

This activity funds four broad mission areas: Accession Training, Basic and Advanced Skills Training, Professional Development Education, and Other Training and Education Programs which provide a holistic program to develop Airmen throughout their careers. Accession training provides initial enlisted and officer personnel with their basic instructional foundation. Enlisted personnel receive their initial training at Lackland AFB, TX while officers receive formal introductory training through the United States Air Force Academy, Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps, Officer Training School, or the Airmen Education and Commissioning Program. Basic Skills and Advanced Skills Training includes specialized skill training across the full spectrum of Air Force specialties. This training provides essential skills to operate, maintain, and manage complex weapon systems and associated support structures. For example, flight training programs include initial flight screening, undergraduate pilot training, specialized undergraduate pilot training, specialized undergraduate and advanced navigator training, and pilot instructor training. Professional Development Education funds professional military education programs for commissioned officers, civilians, and noncommissioned officers to enhance and develop critical decision making and leadership skills. Finally, Other Training and Education Programs provide funding for general civilian education and training, tuition assistance for Active Duty personnel, and the Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps.

Budget Activity 03: Training and Recruiting - Major Program Changes:

The FY 2026 Training and Recruiting budget request of $3.3 billion represents a price increase of $0.05 billion and program growth of $0.02 billion. Detailed changes by Subactivity Group are provided in the OP-5 Exhibits of this Justification Book.

The FY 2026 request for O&M, Air Force, includes $3,313,275 thousand of discretionary and $30,000 thousand of mandatory (reconciliation) for a total of $3,343,275 thousand to directly support warfighters' readiness.

Administration and Servicewide Activities (BA-04)	6,374.8	188.3	-497.0	6,066.1	119.4	14.5	6,199.9

This activity funds four broad mission areas integral to the Air Force: Logistics Operations, Servicewide Support, Security Programs, and Support to Other Nations. Logistics Operations includes items such as readiness spares kits and pipeline supply requirements, as well as inter- and intra-theater transport and handling of equipment and munitions. Servicewide Activities ensure combat capabilities through communications and personnel and policy direction, and also supports the Civil Air Patrol across the Total Force. Security Programs include funding for the Air Force Office of Special Investigations and a range of classified activities. Finally, Support to Other Nations funds the Air Force's participation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe, and the US Central Command's role in the Cooperative Defense Initiatives.

Budget Activity 04: Administration and Servicewide Activities - Major Program Changes:

The FY 2026 Administration and Servicewide Activities budget request of $6.2 billion represents a price increase of $0.2 billion and program decrease of -$0.01 billion. Detailed changes by Subactivity Group are provided in the OP-5 Exhibits of this Justification Book.

The FY 2026 request for O&M, Air Force, includes $6,199,890 thousand of discretionary and $12,485 thousand of mandatory (reconciliation) for a total of $6,212,375 thousand to directly support warfighters' readiness.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Operating Forces
Activity Group: Air Operations
Detail by Subactivity Group: Primary Combat Forces and Support

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Primary Combat Forces and Support is comprised of three major subcategories: (1) fixed wing combat aircraft to include fighters, bombers, and strike assets; (2) nuclear assets to include Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles (ICBMs), the helicopters that support them and the bomber force's air launched missiles; and (3) conventional weapons that provide a strong capability to counter and deter a wide range of threats to the United States and its allies. Funds also pay for civilian personnel, support equipment and associated costs for wing headquarters, fighter squadrons, bomber squadrons, missile squadrons, organizational avionics and consolidated aircraft and missile maintenance. The objective is to increase readiness and functional proficiency through flying and ground operations training with personnel, equipment and systems that would respond to any war, crisis, contingency or emergency.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Primary Combat Forces and Support aids the operations of fixed wing active fighter, attack, and bomber squadrons worldwide (such as the A-10, B-1, B-2, B-52, F-15, F-16, F-22, and F-35 aircraft) and supports Air Force nuclear assets to include the operation and maintenance activities of nine squadrons operating Minuteman III ICBMs, UH-1N Huey helicopters, MH-139 helicopters, the bomber force Air Launched Cruise Missile (AGM-86B) and gravity bombs (B61 and B83). This Subactivity Group will fund initial program support costs for the Ground Based Strategic Deterrent which will replace the current Minuteman III ICBMs. This program also supports conventional weapons such as the Conventional Air-Launched Cruise Missile (CALCM: AGM-86C), Advanced Medium Range Air-to-Air Missile (AMRAAM: AIM-120), Tactical Air-to-Air Missile (AIM-9), Standoff Attack Weapon (AGM-130), Maverick Missile (AGM-65), Sensor Fused Weapon (SFW: CBU-97, 105, 115), Wind Corrected Munitions Dispenser (WCMD: CBU-103, 104, 105), Joint Direct Attack Munitions (JDAM: GBU-31, 32, 38B), Joint Air-to-Surface Standoff Missile (JASSM: AGM-158A), Hellfire Air-to-Ground Missile (AGM-114), Small Diameter Bomb I (SDB: GBM-39B), and Small Diameter Bomb II (SDB: GBU-53B).

8) Enhanced Theater Force Posture $72,162

Increase funding to provide necessary resources for theater posture in support of geographic combatant commander requirements. Funds the necessary operation and maintenance resources to sustain ongoing operations, support enhanced in-theater force protection requirements and maintain deterrence activities. In this Subactivity Group, funds operational support costs to include logistics, essential equipment, SAAM airlift and deployment travel expenses associated with the broader increased tempo and mission requirements in priority theaters.

11) Nuclear Deterrence Combat Forces - Realign Sentinel Funding $53,300
Increase funds shortfalls in the operational sustainment to the Ground Based Strategic Deterrent (GBSD) Squadrons, further supporting the ongoing development and maintenance of the nation's strategic deterrent capabilities. Funds have been internally realigned within the U.S. Air Force to support near-term operation and maintenance sustainment shortfalls due to the schedule delays in the Sentinel program. This increased support will allow for better allocation of funds and help reduce discrepancies in daily operational activities, ultimately ensuring smoother and more efficient operations for our nuclear enterprise as the Air Force bridges to a future in the delayed Sentinel program.

15) Precision Attack Combat Forces - Bomber Deployments $72,450

Increase provides resources to support the deployment of bomber aircraft. In FY 2026, this funding will support the temporary relocation (deployment) of Air Force Global Strike Command B-1 bombers from Ellsworth AFB, SD to Grand Forks, ND due to the temporary runway closure at Ellsworth necessitated by the B-21 Beddown runway upgrades, a project which is anticipated to continue into FY 2026. Furthermore, baseline funding will support future bomber task forces in support of geographic combatant commander requirements, which have historically been an unfunded requirement sourced in the year of execution as operational taskings emerged. Sourcing those unfunded requirements as emergent execution-year requirements has become unsustainable, and the Air Force decided to program baseline funding to support these bomber deployments. Funds the necessary operation and maintenance resources to sustain ongoing operations to include logistics, essential equipment, SAAM airlift and associated deployment travel expenses.

16) Precision Attack Combat Forces - F-35 Operational Beddown $178,000
Increase funds the expansion for F-35 operational beddown requirements to support the ongoing delivery of new weapon systems, new operating locations and unit standup. Funding supports beddown requirements such as: operational site improvements and setup; simulator facilities and integration into the Joint Simulation Environment; advanced travel pods; deployable debrief facilities; and other furniture, fixtures and equipment (FF&E). The combination of late basing decisions, late MILCON funding availability, and delayed contracting actions are compressing F-35 beddown timelines at new operating locations, which necessitates increased Operation and Maintenance funding to support stopgap measures called Interim Operating Procedures (IOPs). These IOPs are required to maintain operational capabilities while awaiting permanent facilities and drive additional FY 2026 costs, such as temporary facility modifications, increased TDY requirements for off-station training, and contractor support for surge requirements at sites preparing for First Aircraft Arrival (FAA).

17) Precision Attack Combat Forces - INDOPACOM Rotational Deployments $110,127
Increase funding to provide resources for rotational fighter aircraft deployments for heightened theater posture in support of the INDOPACOM Operation plan. The funding provides the requisite operation and maintenance resources to bridge the gap and sustain a rotational Air Superiority presence as the F-15Cs divest, while the squadrons reconstitute with F-15EXs as the aircraft come off the production line.

18) Precision Attack Combat Forces - Thunderbirds $16,000

The increase supports Thunderbird F-16 Squadron to maintain its day-to-day operations and prepare for an expanded schedule of 34 events per season, as set by the Secretary of the Air Force/Public Affairs (SAF/PA). To accommodate this increased schedule, the squadron will require additional airlift support, which will involve either two C-130s or one C-17, along with associated equipment and personnel, resulting in a 45% increase in costs.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Operating Forces
Activity Group: Air Operations
Detail by Subactivity Group: Combat Enhancement Forces

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Combat Enhancement Forces include Combat Communications; Command and Control operations; Electronic Warfare; Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance (ISR) functions; Personnel Recovery; and Special Operations Forces.

Combat Communications includes deployable Command, Control, Communications systems and support combat communications units.

Command and Control funding supports Theater Air Control System (TACS) communications, Tactical Intelligence Cryptologic activities, Air Force Targeting Center, and the Air Force Modeling Simulation program. TACS provides the Joint Force Air Component Commander (JFACC) the ability to plan combined/joint theater air operations through the Air Operations Center (AOC) and perform decentralized execution of the Commander's intent. Components of the TACS include the AOC weapon system, Airborne Warning Control System, Joint Surveillance Target Attack Radar Systems, Control Reporting Center, Air Support Operations Center, Wing Operations Centers, and related command, control, communications computers (C4) capabilities. The Air Force Modeling Simulation program provides training tools for the warfighter including Distributed Mission Training Operations, Wargaming Simulation Centers, and the Air Force Agency for Modeling Simulation.

Electronic Warfare programs include EC-130H Compass Call aircraft, mission planning systems, electronic combat support, shore-based electronic warfare squadrons, combat identification, information warfare flights, and tactical electronic warfare equipment for multiple platforms. Electronic Warfare Integrated Reprogramming updates radar warning receivers based on threat changes, tactical electronic warfare equipment for multiple platforms, and tactical datalink support.

Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance (ISR) functions include the U-2 Dragon and other manned reconnaissance aircraft, unmanned aircraft systems such as the MQ-9 Reaper and RQ-4 Global Hawk, as well as the Air Force Distributed Common Ground System (DCGS). Air Force DCGS tasks, processes, exploits, and distributes all the ISR collected by the various ISR platforms. Intelligence Cryptologic activities include near real-time intelligence broadcasts worldwide through the Integrated Broadcast Service. These systems provide an intelligence infrastructure to task, collect, process, exploit and disseminate intelligence products through the Air Force and support Combatant Command (CCMD) operations.

Personnel Recovery (PR) funding includes active duty Air Reserve Component support for sustainment readiness of legacy HC-130J, HC-130N, HH-60G, HH-60W, and Guardian Angel (GA) units. In addition to funding operational PR units, funding also supports Civil Air Patrol operations, Aero-medical Evacuation units, National Security Preparedness programs, DoD Civil Search and Rescue, Isolated Personnel Reports (ISOPREP) related to Personnel Recovery Command and Control (PRC2) sustainment, the Joint Personnel Recovery Agency, and the Air Force Medical War Reserve Materiel contracts.

Air Force Special Operations Forces funding supports multiple ongoing special operations programs and forces in support of Combatant Commands worldwide to include initial training and equipping of special tactics personnel, sustainment of Special Operations Forces (SOF), Special Warfare Airmen, MC-130 and AC-130 fleets, and vertical lift capability (CV-22).

II. Force Structure Summary:

Supports all Air Force fixed-wing and rotary-wing squadrons, pararescue operations, rescue coordination centers, special operations units, command and control units, and intelligence organizations.

7. Transfers.....$13,653

a) Transfers In $13,783

1) Civilian Pay - Spectrum Warfare Wing Realignment $10,270

Increase transfers full-year funding and manpower to Combat Enhancement Forces (Subactivity Group 11C +$10,270, 79 FTEs) from Other Combat Operations Support Program (Subactivity Group 12C -$10,270, 79 FTEs) due to the movement and divestiture of resources to the 350th Spectrum Warfare Wing. Manpower will accomplish necessary actions to ensure the Air Force's electromagnetic spectrum enterprise operations achieve superiority and maintain advantage.

(FY 2025 Base: $296,640; FTE Base: 2,182; 79 FTE)

2) Civilian Pay - Data & Sensor Strategy Manpower Realignment..... $1,770

Increase transfers funding and manpower from Global C3I & Early Warning (Subactivity Group 12A, $-1,663, 22 FTEs) to Combat Enhancement Forces (Subactivity Group 11C, +$1,770, 10 FTEs) and Other Combat Operations Support Program (Subactivity Group 12C, +$1,976, 12 FTEs) to bolster the Air Force's (AF) core objectives: developing talent, generating readiness, projecting power, and advancing capabilities. This increase in manpower will strengthen the AF's Information Operations and Tactical Deception Programs. This enhancement will facilitate the AF's transition to an information-centric platform, better positioning it to address evolving challenges in both competition and conflict.

2) Civilian Pay - Service Component Command Elevation..... $2,675
 Increase full-year funding and personnel (22 FTEs) in response to strategic shift towards increased enterprise readiness. The added manpower ensures that crisis response and enterprise readiness can all execute concurrently. Manpower will execute and employ crisis response tasks which will enable military assets to focus on readiness.

OP32:
 101 Executive General Schedule

(FY 2025 Base: $296,640; FTE Base: 2,182; 22 FTE)

3) Combat Communications - Air Force Force Generation..... $4,211
 Increase supports Air Force Force Generation (AFFORGEN) by enhancing its Agile Combat Employment (ACE) concept, providing 5th generation fighter units with advanced, scalable technologies to improve organic Command and Control (C2) capabilities. This upgrade allows Airmen to operate effectively in deployed or austere locations, similar to their home stations, with seamless integration across various networks. The initiative aims to increase lead wing capacity and reduce pre-deployment preparation time, ultimately strengthening the Air Force's ability to succeed in competitions or conflicts, particularly in the Indo-Pacific region. By doing so, it will improve training and enhance operational capabilities to counter pacing adversaries.

OP32:
 925 Equipment Purchases (Non-Fund)

(FY 2025 Base: $31,708)

4) Command and Control - Joint Simulation Environment..... $37,900
 Increase supports Joint Simulation Environment (JSE) enhancements. Reinforces development and sustainment of JSE assets and environments addressing significant limitations in current weapon testing and training infrastructure. System supports four critical functions: integrated development and testing, tactics development, advance training, and systems experimentation.

OP32:
 922 Equipment Maintenance By Contract

(FY 2025 Base: $70,090)

6) Electronic Warfare - Electromagnetic Spectrum..... $36,860
 Increase supports the acceleration of the Air Force Electromagnetic Spectrum operational capabilities by developing and deploying advanced electronic warfare (EW) techniques and infrastructure to counter emerging threats. This effort involves creating platform-agnostic development tools, modernizing EW systems, and enhancing capabilities to achieve spectrum superiority, particularly for 5th and next-generation aircraft, to stay ahead of adversaries and maintain dominance.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Air Operations Training consists of fighter initial combat mission training, advanced tactical training for aircrew, and missile launch training for ballistic missile crews. Funding supports Adversary Air (ADAIR) training aircraft, contracted aircraft, training ranges, facilities, equipment, combat simulators, dissimilar air combat training (against different aircraft types), ground training munitions, training deployments, and exercises.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Supports operation of combat training squadrons as well as graduate-level flight instruction. Includes air-to-ground ranges, Major Range and Test Facility Base ranges and electronic scoring sites, U.S. operations at a multi-national electronic warfare range, air-to-air training operations, and combat training exercises.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Operating Forces
Activity Group: Air Operations
Detail by Subactivity Group: Depot Purchase Equipment Maintenance

I. Description of Operations Financed:

The funding in Subactivity Group 11M is for the Depot Purchased Equipment Maintenance (DPEM) portion of the Weapon System Sustainment (WSS) in the centrally managed portfolio. This includes all the organic and contract depot level maintenance services for the Air Force and other organizations with Depot Maintenance Inter-service Support Agreements. The customers determine the requirements and provide obligation authority from each of the components in accordance with regulation AFMAN 63-143 Centralized Asset Management Procedures.

II. Force Structure Summary:

The funding in this Subactivity Group supports Cyber Sustainment requirements which enables the readiness of the Air Force's cyber weapon systems. These assets are categorized as Combat Air Forces, Helo Operations, Mobility Air Forces, Nuclear Deterrence, Formal and Readiness Training. Collectively, they provide the United States all the core missions of Air Power to produce the effects of Global Vigilance, Global Reach, and Global Power.

The Weapons System Sustainment (WSS) requirements are developed through the Logistics Requirements Determination Process (LRDP), based on operational needs. The LRDP consists of three basic phases: (1) develop requirements, (2) review, collaborate and validate requirements, (3) certify, prioritize and publish requirements. The process is managed by the System Program Managers (SPM) and Program Group Managers (PGM) in the web-based tool named Sustainment Planning, Execution, and Reporting System (SPERS).

The largest WSS sustainment area (DPEM) has individual commodities with their own tailored sub-process specific to aircraft, engines, missiles, other major end items and software. The lead Major Commands have the overall responsibility for the category of weapon systems. They provide the capability to the Joint Force based on current and projected demand for each individual weapon system.

a) Annualization of New FY 2025 Program	$0
b) One-Time FY 2026 Costs	$0
c) Program Growth in FY 2026	$407,961
1) Air Superiority - F-22A	$69,744
Increase for the F-22 Raptor is required to address escalating maintenance demands. This reflects an increase in depot level maintenance hours needed for individual parts, assemblies, or subassemblies based on historical data and increased operational and software sustainment requirements to counter aging vulnerabilities. The F-22 program will also see growth in engines, contractor logistics support management, and sustaining engineering, congruent with increased use. This funding increase significantly enhances F-22 pilot production by ensuring the availability of serviceable aircraft.

930 Other Depot Maintenance (Non-DWCF)
(FY 2025 Base: $72,371)
2) Global Integrated Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance - MQ-9 UAV	$8,215
Increase for the MQ-9 Reaper, a remotely piloted aircraft providing a unique capability to perform strike, coordination, and reconnaissance against high-level targets. This increase funds the procurement of additional Multi-Spectral Targeting System-B (MTS-B) sensor pods, enhancing the MQ-9's ability to find, fix, and track time-sensitive targets. This investment is projected to increase the number of combat lines available for tasking by combatant commanders. This ultimately enables the MQ-9 to better the increasing demand for its intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance capabilities in support of global operations.

3) Global Precision Attack - B-52 $76,306

Increase for the B-52 Stratofortress is critical to sustain the long-term readiness of this vital bomber, ensuring its continued viability as a key element of the U.S. nuclear triad and conventional strike force. Despite its age, the B-52's relevance has only increased in recent years, leading to higher operational demands and accelerating fatigue on critical components like engines and airframes. Increased funding will address critical sustainment needs, including engine overhauls, structural repairs, and modernization of avionics and communication systems. This investment is essential to maintaining the B-52's ability to deliver global strike capabilities and provide a credible deterrent until the B-21 Raider can be fully fielded.

661 AF Consolidated Sustainment

930 Other Depot Maintenance (Non-DWCF)

(FY 2025 Base: $590,901)

4) Global Precision Attack - F-35 $12,736

Increase for the F-35 program is driven by escalating sustainment demands across the growing aircraft inventory. Specifically, depot level reparables requirements have increased to meet higher operational tempos across the fleet. This increase also funds growth in software and laboratory sustainment demands, driven by the evolving threat environment. These investments are essential to maintaining the F-35's technological advantage and ensuring its continued contribution to global precision attack.

5) Nuclear Deterrence Operations - B-2 $1,158

Increase for the B-2 Spirit is essential to maintain the readiness and effectiveness of this critical strategic asset, ensuring its ability to penetrate enemy defenses and deliver both conventional and nuclear munitions. As the B-2 fleet ages, the need for enhanced sustainment, modernization, and software upgrades has intensified to counter evolving threats and maintain its low-observable characteristics. Increased funding will address critical maintenance backlogs, support the timely replacement of aging components, and enable the integration of advanced technologies that enhance the B-2's survivability and lethality. This investment is vital to preserving the B-2's unique capabilities as a cornerstone of the U.S. nuclear triad and a guarantor of global strategic stability.

OP32:

661 AF Consolidated Sustainment

930 Other Depot Maintenance (Non-DWCF)

(FY 2025 Base: $363,097)

6) Rapid Global Mobility - AC-130J $26,466

Increase for the AC-130J Ghost rider, which provides ground forces with an unparalleled expeditionary, direct-fire platform, delivering precise firepower and persistent air support to special operations forces. Recent deployments have demonstrated the AC-130J's effectiveness in urban operations and denied territories, exceeding mission requirements for close air support, air interdiction, and armed reconnaissance. To sustain this critical capability, increased funding is vital to support the growing demand for AC-130J engine overhauls and Contractor Logistics Support, driven by higher operational tempos and the transition to the Rolls-Royce propulsion contract. This investment will ensure the long-term health of the AC-130J fleet, enabling the platform to deliver decisive airpower in support of special operations forces for years to come.

7) Rapid Global Mobility - KC-135..... $203,819

Increase for the KC-135 Stratotanker is critical to sustaining the Air Force's core air refueling capacity as the service transitions to a mixed-fleet posture. This increase provides essential funding for an expanded Programmed Depot Maintenance (PDM) program to address increased aircraft age and maintenance demands. Operational demands for supporting overseas operations are impacting engine and Contractor Logistics Support (CLS). These funds are essential to maintaining the KC-135's high operational tempo, ensuring global reach and power projection for the Joint Force.

930 Other Depot Maintenance (Non-DWCF)

(FY 2025 Base: $679,946)

8) Rapid Global Mobility - MC-130J $8,138

Increase for the MC-130J Commando II. This increase supports the modernization and sustainment of the MC-130J fleet, which has experienced increased operational demands in recent years. This funding ensures these aircraft have the advanced capabilities necessary to operate in contested environments. This directly enhances the readiness of special operations forces, allowing them to conduct critical missions such as infiltration, exfiltration, and resupply in hostile territory.

9) Undergraduate Pilot Training $1,379

Increase for the T-6 Texan II & T-38 Talon, the primary trainer for USAF student pilots, is critical to meet the escalating demands for pilot production. This increase supports 6 additional T-6 Aircraft Consolidation Induction aircraft, exceeding planned capacity to ensure sufficient aircraft are available to meet projected future training requirements. As well as structural upgrades and service life extension modifications to address aging-related issues and extend the T-38's operational lifespan. This effort directly supports the fielding a more lethal and ready force for the US and allied partners, by providing a steady flow of new pilots trained to the highest standards. These additional aircraft will be sustained through depot-level heavy maintenance and sustainment engineering, ensuring their continued availability and extending their service life.

9. Program Decreases $-720,208

a) One-Time FY 2025 Costs $-40,000

1) In-Canal Active Hearing Protection $-40,000

Decrease following a one-time FY 2025 Congressional mark increase to provide funding support for critical in-canal active hearing protection.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Facilities Sustainment, Restoration and Modernization (FSRM) functions include facility and infrastructure sustainment, restoration and modernization, and demolition activities at all Air Force installations, including large life-cycle repair for all Active Force Major Commands and the United States Air Force Academy (USAFA). Beginning in FY 2022, funding for Space Force bases was transferred from the Air Force to the Space Force. FSRM activities ensure installation facilities, utility systems, and infrastructure are capable of fully supporting mission requirements throughout their economic lives.

Sustainment is performed through a combination of organic workforce and contract support and includes the maintenance and repair activities necessary to keep an inventory of facilities in good working order. It includes regularly scheduled adjustments and inspections, preventive maintenance tasks, and emergency response and service calls for minor repairs. It also includes major repairs or replacement of facility components (usually accomplished by contract) that are expected to occur periodically throughout the life cycle of facilities. This work includes replacement, refinishing, repairing and replacement of heating and cooling systems, tile, carpeting, and similar types of work. It does not include environmental compliance costs, facility leases or other tasks associated with facilities operations (such as custodial services, grounds services, waste disposal and the provision of utilities).

Restoration is the restoration of real property to such a condition that it may be used for its designated purpose. This includes repair or replacement work to restore facilities damaged by inadequate sustainment, excessive age, natural disaster, fire, accident or other causes.

Modernization is the alteration or replacement of facilities solely to implement new or higher standards, to accommodate new functions or to replace building components that typically last more than 50 years (such as the framework or foundation). Modernization also includes infrastructure repairs and minor construction to accommodate changes in mission requirements, including new mission beddowns. Modernization is critical to ensure aging facilities remain capable of supporting mission requirements as they evolve over the long lives of facilities and infrastructure systems.

Recapitalization is the major renovation or reconstruction activities (including facility replacements) needed to keep existing facilities modern and relevant in an environment of changing standards and missions. Recapitalization extends the service life of facilities or restores lost service life. It includes restoration and modernization of existing facilities.

Demolition is performed primarily by contract. Facilities and infrastructure are demolished to free space for future construction and to eliminate obsolete facilities from the real property inventory. Demolition is a key component of the Air Force strategy to consolidate functions, vacate excess and obsolete facilities, and focus sustainment, restoration and modernization funding on facilities intended to function well into the future.

Evaluation Formulas:

The Department of Defense (DoD) Facilities Sustainment Model (FSM) is used as the standardized model for forecasting Facilities Sustainment resource requirements.

The FSM uses the following formula to develop the sustainment requirement:

Annual Sustainment Requirement = Facility Quantity x Sustainment Cost Factor x Location Factor x Inflation

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Operating Forces
Activity Group: Air Operations
Detail by Subactivity Group: Real Property Maintenance

Terms Defined:

Facility Quantity - the facility size expressed in the Facility Analysis Category (FAC) unit of measure (such as square feet)

Sustainment Cost Factor - the average annual unit cost (in current year dollars) for sustaining the average size facility in the given FAC

Location Factor - a location adjustment based upon the local costs for labor, equipment, materials, and currency exchange rates (overseas) compared with an overall base-city average

Inflation - factor to adjust current year prices to the target future year

The Department uses a sustainment metric which is the comparison of sustainment funding to the requirement for a given year, expressed as a rate:

Sustainment Rate (%) = Sustainment Funding/FSM Requirement

Plant Replacement Value (PRV) is used as the basis for generating recapitalization requirements. The Department of Defense standardized formula for calculating PRV is:

$PRV = \text{Facility Quantity} \times \text{Construction Cost Factor} \times \text{Location Factor} \times \text{Planning \& Design (P\&D) Factor} \times \text{Historical Factor} \times \text{Contingency Factor} \times \text{Supervision, Inspection and Overhead (SIOH)} \times \text{Inflation}$

Terms Defined:

Facility Quantity - the facility size expressed in the FAC unit of measure (such as square feet)

Construction Cost Factor - the average annual unit cost (in current year dollars) for constructing the average size facility to current standards in the given FAC

Location Factor - a location adjustment based upon the local costs for labor, equipment, materials and currency exchange rates (overseas) compared with an overall base-city average

P&D Factor - an adjustment to account for typical project planning and design costs

Historical Factor - an adjustment for historical architecture and materials (when applicable)

Contingency Factor - an adjustment for typical contingency costs during construction

SIOH - an adjustment for supervision, inspection and overhead costs associated with construction management

Inflation - factor to adjust current year prices to the target future year

Significant categories receiving this support:

Aircraft maintenance and generation complexes

Airfield runways, taxiways and ramps

Critical infrastructure, including utility systems

The FY 2026 request for Real Property Maintenance includes $3,093,331 thousand of discretionary and $2,500,000 thousand of mandatory (reconciliation) for a total of $5,593,331 thousand. The mandatory funds provide support to facility sustainment and unaccompanied housing projects for readiness and quality of life. Further information for this reconciliation request is provided in Section 20001 (Quality of Life) of the Reconciliation Exhibit. FY 2026 funding for homeland territorial integrity and security is included in the Reconciliation Exhibit Section 20011 (Homeland Border Security Initiatives).

Mandatory and discretionary funding total reflects sustainment funding at 85% of the Facilities Sustainment Model (FSM).

 Increase to support initial standup and sustainment of Air Operational Wings as mission ready "units of action" categorized as Deployable Combat Wings (DCW), In-Place Combat Wings (ICW) or Combat Generation Wings (CGW). Each will have its own structure, with a redesigned concept of support for Agile Combat Employment (ACE), to ensure the wings are prepared to execute their missions with assigned Airmen and units. This increase will also establish the relationship between Combat Wings, which will focus on mission-level warfighting readiness, and Base Commands, which will focus on supporting Combat Wings and operating the base in competition, crisis, and conflict.

Detail by Subactivity Group: Cyber Sustainment

I. Description of Operations Financed

The funding in Subactivity 11V covers Cyber Sustainment exclusively, which includes the Contractor Logistics Support (CLS), Sustainment Engineering (SE), and Technical Orders (TO). CLS includes depot level maintenance, contracted maintenance, operating command organizational maintenance, repair, materiel management, supply and repair parts management, configuration management, technical data management, training, distribution, failure reporting and analysis. SE is focused on efforts to review, assess, define, and resolve technical or supportability deficiencies revealed in fielded weapon systems, whereas TO provides up-to-date technical data for weapons systems operating in the electro-magnetic domain.

II. Force Structure Summary

The funding in this Subactivity Group supports the readiness of the Air Force's cyber weapon systems. These programs include Distributed Cyber Warfare Operations, Air Force Defensive Cyberspace, Air Force Cyber Command and Control and Cyberspace Operations Systems. Collectively, they provide the United States defensive and offensive capabilities across the domain.

The Weapons System Sustainment (WSS) requirements are developed through the Logistics Requirements Determination Process (LRDP) based on operational needs. The LRDP consists of three basic phases: (1) develop requirements, (2) review, collaborate and validate requirements, (3) certify, prioritize and publish requirements. The entire process is managed by the System Program Managers (SPM) and Program Group Managers (PGM) in the web-based tool named Sustainment Planning, Execution, and Reporting System (SPERS).

All four WSS sustainment areas (DPEM, CLS, SE & TO) have individual commodities with their own tailored sub-process specific to major end items and software. The lead Major Command has the overall responsibility for the category of weapon systems. They provide the capability to the Joint Force based on the current and projected demand for each individual weapon system.

1) Cyberspace Superiority - Air Force Cyber Defense..... $14,780

Increase for AF Cyber Command and Control to bolster the resilience and adaptability of critical command and control systems against increasingly sophisticated cyber threats. The increase continues efforts from the FY 2025 congressional add to repair or replace hardware for sustaining engineering software requirements. As adversaries continue to develop and deploy advanced cyber weapons, the need for robust cybersecurity measures and rapid system upgrades has intensified. The Air Force Cyberspace Defense weapon system coordinates and executes resources needed to assess, analyze, and respond to network security incidents, intrusive activity, vulnerabilities, malicious logic, or viruses. Increased funding will allow for enhanced software development and sustainment of the Cyber Command and Control Mission System (C3MS), ensuring its ability to operate effectively in contested cyberspace. The system provides constant monitoring and defense of the Department's Non-Secure Internet Protocol Router (NIPR)/Secret Internet Protocol Router (SIPR) computer networks against hostile attack. This funding directly supports the warfighter by providing uninterrupted command and control capabilities, enabling decisive action in a dynamic and evolving threat environment.

1) Cyberspace Superiority - Air Force Intranet Control.....$-7,764

Decrease for AF Cyber Operations reflects a strategic realignment of resources within the Air Force, prioritizing the modernization of critical cyber infrastructure and development of cutting-edge cyber capabilities. Decreases the licensing costs, subscription services, and support renewals for fielded software and firmware operating within the Air Force Intranet Control weapon system. The Intranet Control is a critical part of the mission to generate, project, and sustain combat cyberspace power by defending and shaping the cyberspace terrain. While maintaining a robust cyber defense posture remains a top priority, the Air Force will leverage existing resources and pursue innovative solutions to mitigate any potential risks associated with this budget reduction. This strategic shift allows for increased investment in artificial intelligence, machine learning, and other advanced technologies essential for countering sophisticated cyber threats in the future. The Air Force remains committed to defending its networks, deterring malicious cyber activity, and ensuring freedom of maneuver within the cyber domain, even in a resource-constrained environment

OP32:

930 Other Depot Maintenance (Non-DWCF)

(FY 2025 Base: $253,330)

2) Cyberspace Superiority - Distributed Cyber Warfare Operations.....$-19,792

Decrease for AF Cyber Offensive reflects a strategic realignment of resources within the Air Force, prioritizing the modernization of core cyber infrastructure and defensive capabilities in response to evolving budgetary constraints. While maintaining a credible cyber offense remains important, the Air Force will leverage existing tools and partnerships to mitigate any potential risk associated with this budget reduction. This strategic shift allows for increased investment in fortifying cyber defenses, enhancing network security, and developing innovative solutions to counter emerging cyber threats. The Air Force remains committed to maintaining a credible deterrent against malicious cyber actors and will continue to conduct offensive cyber operations as required to support national security objectives. Cyberspace Superiority is a degree of dominance in cyberspace by one force that permits the secure, reliable conduct of operations at a given time and place without prohibitive interference.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

The funding in Subactivity Group 11W is for Contractor Logistics Support (CLS), Sustaining Engineering (SE) and the Technical Orders (TO) portion of the Weapon System Sustainment (WSS) and resides in the centrally managed portfolio. CLS provides various functions such as depot level maintenance, repair, materiel management, supply and repair parts management, and technical data management. SE resolves technical or supportability deficiencies while the TOs ensure up-to-date technical data for sustainment in fielded weapon systems.

II. Force Structure Summary:

The funding in this Subactivity Group, supports CLS, SE, and TO requirements enabling the readiness of the Air Force's weapon systems. These assets are categorized as Combat Air Forces, Helo Operations, Mobility Air Forces, Nuclear Deterrence, Formal and Readiness Training. Collectively, they provide the United States all the core missions of Air Power to produce the effects of Global Vigilance, Global Reach, and Global Power.

The Weapons System Sustainment (WSS) requirements are developed through the Logistics Requirements Determination Process (LRDP) based on operational needs. The LRDP consists of three basic phases: (1) develop requirements, (2) review, collaborate and validate requirements, (3) certify, prioritize and publish requirements. The entire process is managed by the System Program Managers (SPM) and Program Group Managers (PGM), in the web-based tool named Sustainment Planning, Execution, and Reporting System (SPERS).

All the remaining three WSS sustainment areas (CLS, SE & TO) have individual commodities with their own tailored sub-process specific to aircraft, engines, missiles, other major end items and software. The lead Major Commands have the overall responsibility for the category of weapon systems. They provide the capability to the Joint Force based on the current and projected demand for each individual weapon system.

b) One-Time FY 2026 Costs	$0
c) Program Growth in FY 2026	$455,627
1) Air Superiority - F-22	$168,050
Increase for the F-22 Raptor is required to address escalating maintenance demands to strip and reapply reversion-prone low observable coatings. This reflects an increase in depot level maintenance hours needed for individual parts, assemblies, or subassemblies based on historical data and increased operational requirements. The F-22 program will also see growth in engines, contractor logistics support management, and sustaining engineering, congruent with increased use. This funding increase significantly enhances F-22 pilot production by ensuring the availability of serviceable aircraft.

2) Air Superiority - Joint Air-to-Surface Standoff Missile (JASSM)	$15,292
Increase for the Joint Air-to-Surface Standoff Missile (JASSM) program supports the Air Force's global precision strike mission. This increase is necessary to enhance the missile's capabilities against evolving threats and to maintain its critical standoff range, which directly improves aircrew survivability and mission success.

3) Command and Control - E-4B NAOC $49,358

Increase for the E-4B National Military Command System is essential to mitigate growing risks associated with system obsolescence and ensure this critical platform's continued survivability and mission effectiveness. As a key component of the National Military Command System, the E-4B provides a vital command, control, and communications center for national leadership in times of crisis. This funding increase will prioritize essential technical refreshes, address critical Diminishing Manufacturing Sources and Material Shortages (DMSMS) issues, and support necessary upgrades to the E-4B's aging communication systems. These investments are essential to guarantee the E-4B can continue fulfilling its critical national security role throughout its remaining service life.

(FY 2025 Base: $267,794)

4) Command and Control - Wide Area Surveillance (WAS) $15,081

Increase for Wide Area Surveillance (WAS) is critical to enhancing the defense of the National Capitol Region against evolving airborne threats. This increase supports the continued fielding and sustainment of advanced air defense sensors, exceeding prior year levels to expand coverage and enhance early warning capabilities. This expansion of WAS sensor deployment directly benefits NORAD's Homeland Defense mission by providing real-time tracking data on low, slow, and asymmetrical threats, strengthening the overall air picture. This investment ensures timely and accurate information is relayed to Air Defense Sectors, enabling more effective threat response and safeguarding critical national assets.

5) EURO-NATO Joint Jet Pilot Training $28,009

Increase for the T-6 Texan II & T-38 Talon, the primary trainers for EURO-NATO student pilots, is critical to meet the escalating demands for pilot production. This increase supports 6 additional T-6 Aircraft Consolidation Induction aircraft, exceeding planned capacity to ensure sufficient aircraft are available to meet projected future training requirements. Also includes structural upgrades and service life extension modifications to address aging-related issues and extend the T-38's operational lifespan. This effort directly supports the fielding a more lethal and ready force for the U.S. and allied partners, by providing a steady flow of new pilots trained to the highest standards. These additional aircraft will be sustained through depot-level heavy maintenance and sustainment engineering, ensuring their continued availability and extending their service life.

OP32:

930 Other Depot Maintenance (Non-DWCF)

(FY 2025 Base: $26,325)

6) Global Integrated Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance - RC-135 $20,875

Increase for the RC-135V/W Rivet Joint, a reconnaissance aircraft that provides near real-time intelligence collection, analysis, and dissemination capabilities. This increase funds the accelerated modernization of the Rivet Joint fleet's communication and sensor suites, enhancing its ability to detect, identify, and geolocate signals. This investment improves the aircraft's intelligence-gathering capabilities against increasingly sophisticated adversary threats. Ultimately, this initiative ensures the RC-135 remains a vital asset for providing actionable intelligence to theater and national-level commanders in support of global operations.

7) Global Precision Attack - F-16 $33,125

Increase for the F-16 Fighting Falcon to support the continued modernization and sustainment of the F-16, a critical multi-role fighter comprising nearly half of the USAF fighter force. Due to increased global commitments and the aircraft's expanding role in operations like Inherent Resolve and Freedom's Sentinel, demand for F-16 maintenance and modernization has escalated. This increase provides essential funding for upgrades, structural repairs, and software enhancements, ultimately bolstering the F-16's combat readiness and ensuring its continued viability as a cornerstone of the U.S. Air Force's air power.

OP32:

8) Global Precision Attack - Tactical Air Control Party $21,506

Increase for the Tactical Air Control Party-Modernization (TACP-M) program is critical to enhancing the close air support (CAS) capabilities of TACP units. This increase provides essential funding for replacing obsolete and outdated communication equipment within the TACP Family of Systems (FoS), which has reached the end of its service life. This modernization effort directly enhances the warfighter's ability to effectively coordinate and de-conflict CAS missions, improving the precision and responsiveness of airpower in support of ground operations. Ultimately, this investment reduces the risk of fratricide and strengthens the overall effectiveness of joint combat operations.

9) Nuclear Deterrence Operations - MILSATCOM Terminals $15,303

Increase for MILSATCOM NC3 Terminals to support the modernization of aging terminals and the acquisition of advanced capabilities to maintain a resilient and secure communication network. These terminals have experienced a significant increase in demand for data transmission and voice communication across all combatant commands. This investment is critical to ensuring reliable connectivity for critical Nuclear Command and Communications (NC3) functions, directly supporting the President, Secretary of Defense, and military leaders in executing national security directives.

10) Rapid Global Mobility - CV-22..... $37,004

Increase for the CV-22 Osprey, a unique tilt-rotor aircraft providing long-range infiltration, exfiltration, and resupply for special operations forces, is crucial due to escalating maintenance requirements driven by increased global operational demands. This increase directly enhances mission readiness by funding additional Programmed Depot Maintenance (PDM) cycles for the CV-22 fleet. These intensive maintenance actions, conducted approximately every four years per aircraft, are essential to sustaining the Osprey's complex systems and ensuring its continued availability for critical special operations missions. This investment is essential to maintaining the CV-22's critical role in global special operations, upholding its position as a premier platform for long-range insertion and extraction in high-threat environments.

11) Rapid Global Mobility - KC-135s $11,581

Increase for the KC-135 Stratotanker is critical to sustaining the Air Force's core air refueling capacity as the service transitions to a mixed-fleet posture. This increase provides essential funding for an expanded Programmed Depot Maintenance (PDM) program to address increased aircraft age and maintenance demands. These investments are essential to maintaining the KC-135's high operational tempo, ensuring global reach and power projection for the Joint Force.

12) Rapid Global Mobility - KC-46A $40,443

Increase for the KC-46A Pegasus to provide essential funding for modernization and sustainment efforts to maintain the survivability of the fleet. These aircraft flew an increased number of missions last year, highlighting their capability for global reach through aerial refueling operations. This investment ensures the KC-46A can continue to support the Air Force's Rapid Global Mobility mission, delivering fuel and extending the reach of U.S. and allied aircraft around the world.

2) Global Integrated Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance - U-2$-264,644
Decrease for U-2 Systems reduces funding for planned sensor upgrades and modernization efforts, impacting the platform's long-term intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance (ISR) capabilities. This budgetary constraint slows the pace of technological advancements for engines & sustaining engineering needed to maintain the U-2's edge in contested airspace and counter evolving threats. While yielding immediate cost savings, this decrease creates risk by potentially degrading the quality and timeliness of intelligence gathered by the U-2. Ultimately, this constraint could hinder the warfighter's situational awareness and decision-making capabilities in future operations.

3) Nuclear Deterrence - ICBM.....$-182,003
Decrease for Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM) Minuteman III reflects reduced reliance on legacy systems in favor of modernization efforts. This decrease defers upgrades to the Little Mountain Test Facility (LMTF) and Strategic Missile Integration Complex (SMIC), prioritizing immediate readiness over long-term sustainment of aging infrastructure.

4) Rapid Global Mobility - C-130J$-70,129

Program Decrease for the C-130J Super Hercules reflects necessary budgetary constraints, requiring a reduction in planned depot-level maintenance for this essential tactical airlifter. While the C-130J remains crucial for delivering troops and equipment to austere locations, this decrease defers some scheduled maintenance actions, increasing the risk of reduced aircraft availability and potentially impacting operational readiness. The impact of these reductions on the Air Force's ability to meet global airlift requirements will be closely monitored, and risk mitigation measures will be explored to maintain the C-130J's operational effectiveness within a constrained budget environment.

5) Rapid Global Mobility - C-17$-162,647

Decrease for the C-17 Globemaster III reflects necessary budgetary constraints, impacting the strategic airlift fleet's planned maintenance and sustainment activities. While the C-17 remains crucial for projecting and sustaining military forces globally, this decrease will reduce the acquisition of spare engines and components, potentially impacting aircraft availability rates. The long-term effects of these reductions on the Air Force's ability to meet global airlift requirements will be closely monitored. Mitigation strategies, including prioritizing maintenance for the most critical components, will be implemented to minimize risk and maintain the C-17's operational effectiveness within a constrained fiscal environment.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

The Flying Hour Program (FHP) encompasses two components: the traditional rate-based FHP and the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM) spare parts program.

The traditional FHP serves as a vital funding stream within the Department, providing essential resources for the purchase of organically supplied aircraft parts from the Air Force Working Capital Fund, as well as aviation fuel sourced from the Defense Logistics Agency. This critical funding stream plays a pivotal role in generating the flying hours necessary to develop and sustain combat airpower, thereby directly contributing to the operational readiness and effectiveness of aircrews.

To ensure the achievement of operational readiness, the FHP employs a comprehensive framework that allocates flight hours in support of aircrew production, continuation of basic combat flying skills, unit-specific mission requirements, and a range of training activities that encompass both formal and operational elements.

When making programming decisions, the FHP considers historical execution and force structure changes, ensuring that the program remains adaptable and responsive to evolving operational requirements. However, the Department has faced challenges increasing the execution of flight hours due to pilot shortages, training limitations, and rising costs. As a result, the FY 2026 program is funded at executable levels that fall below the minimum training requirement.

The ICBM spares program plays a critical role in supporting the life cycle sustainment of the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile program. By allocating sufficient funding for the replacement or repair of critical components, the program enables the continued operational effectiveness and readiness of the ICBM nuclear deterrence weapon system, thereby contributing to the overall security and defense posture of the nation.

II. Force Structure Summary:

The FHP supports the operations of fixed wing attack, bomber and fighter squadrons, rotary wing squadrons, combat training squadrons, airlift and refueling operations worldwide. The program also supports nine aircraft types at eight flying training wings within the following operating bases: Randolph AFB, Texas; Vance AFB, Oklahoma; Columbus AFB, Mississippi; Laughlin AFB, Texas; Sheppard AFB, Texas; Ft Rucker, Alabama; USAF Academy, Colorado; and Naval Air Station Pensacola, Florida.

1) Combat Air Forces	$204,371

Program increase to the Combat Air Forces (CAF) flying hour program provides critical support to air forces in direct combat operations. This includes a range of mission sets such as fighter, bomber, command and control, combat search and rescue, and intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance aircraft, ultimately enhancing their ability to execute diverse missions and protect national interests.

Despite a reduction in flying hours, CAF has experienced a funding increase, driven by the elevated operational tempo of advanced weapons systems, as well as rising cost per flying hour rates attributed to increased consumption of fuel, aircraft parts, and supplies. The net result is a decrease of (-36,724) flying hours.

The following details by aircraft type provides insight into the platforms contributing to reduction in flying hours, as well as the resulting change in funding levels from the increased utilization of higher-cost weapon systems.

The following aircraft have reductions in flying hours: A-10C by (-24,053 hours), B-1B (-66 hours), B-52H (-9 hours), E-11A (-1,206 hours), E-3G (-3,142 hours), EC-130H (-673 hours), F-15C (-799 hours), F-15D (-273 hours), F-15E (-8,680 hours), F-16C (-1,900 hours), F-16D (-411 hours), HC-130J (-1,794 hours), HH-60G (-1,422 hours), and the RC-135U by (-135 hours).

In contrast, the F-15EX increased by (9,362 hours), F-22A (3,820 hours), F-35A (3,790 hours), B-2A (752 hours), and the HH-60W by (477 hours). The following aircraft had no changes: E-4B, E-9A, RC-135S, RC-135V, RC-135W, T-38A, TC-135W, and WC-135C.

Net adjustments in dollars may not always follow in the direction of the hour change due to price and consumption adjustments in the cost per flying hour rates for fuel, aircraft parts and supplies.

(FY 2025 Base: $4,235,073)

2) Formal Training $112,782

Program increase to the Formal Training program utilizes flying hours to facilitate the development of initial flying skills and aircrew production, ultimately enhancing the operational readiness of our aircrews.

Despite the reduction in flying hours to executable levels, the program has experienced a funding increase. This is primarily attributed to the elevated operational tempo of advanced trainer weapon systems, as well as rising cost per flying hour rates, which is driven by increased consumption of fuel, aircraft parts, and supplies.

To ensure alignment with executable levels, the program has implemented a reduction of (-40,954) flight hours. The following details by aircraft type provides insight into the platforms contributing to the reduction in flying hours, as well as the resulting change in funding levels from the increased utilization of higher-cost weapon systems.

The following aircraft have reductions in flying hours: T-1A by (-25,318 hours), T-6A (-13,033 hours), HC-130J (-2,142 hours), KC-46A (-2,000 hours), TH-1H (-602 hours), C-130J (-557 hours), T-53A (-440 hours), T-38C (-309 hours), UH-1N (-200 hours), T-41D (-100 hours), T-51A (-100 hours), UV-18B (-100 hours), and the F-16D by (-87 hours).

In contrast, the KC-135R increased by (80 hours), F-16C (101 hours), HH-60W (263 hours), C-17A (392 hours), T-7A (1,374 hours), F-35A (1,824 hours). The following aircraft had no changes: HH-60G, TG-15A, TG-15B, and TG-16A.

3) Intercontinental Ballistic Missile Spares..... $4,756

Program increase is necessary for the Minuteman III Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM) program to maintain the viability and operational readiness of the current ballistic missile inventory. This funding request will provide the necessary resources for depot-level reparable and critical consumable parts, thereby sustaining the ICBM's vital role in strategic deterrence. Ultimately, contributing to the overall safety and security of the United States by maintaining the reliability and effectiveness of the nation's nuclear deterrent capabilities.

2) Mobility Air Forces$-163,430

Program decrease for the Mobility Air Forces (MAF) flying hours program, which provides critical support to air forces delivering airlift, air refueling, special air missions, and aeromedical evacuations. This reduction is primarily driven by a decrease of (-13,391) flying hours, coupled with lower hourly costs associated with MAF weapon systems. The following details by aircraft type provides insight into the platforms contributing to the reduction in flying hours.

The following aircraft have reductions in flying hours: KC-135R by (-5,934 hours), UH-1N (-4,694 hours), C-40B (-1,101 hours), C-21A (-920 hours), KC-135T (-909 hours), C-12J (-735 hours), EC-37B (-400 hours), C-37A (-361 hours), C-12F (-282 hours), C-130J (-270 hours), C-5M (-142 hours), and the KC-46A by (-33 hours).

In contrast, the C-40C increased by (140 hours), MH-139A (1,935 hours), and the C-17A (173 hours). The following aircraft had no changes: KC-10A, C-37B, C-32A, and the VC-25A.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Provides funding for installation support functions, engineering, and environmental programs in support of Air Force installations including the U.S. Air Force Academy. Beginning in FY 2022, funding for Space Force bases was transferred from the Air Force to the Space Force. The program sustains mission capability, enhances quality of life, enables workforce productivity, and provides infrastructure support. Significant categories of support are listed below.

Unaccompanied Personnel Housing (UPH) Services

UPH Services include management and execution of government-owned, leased, contracted, or privatized UPH. Unaccompanied Personnel Housing includes Permanent Party UPH services management, initial issue of furnishings (furniture, appliances, and equipment) for newly constructed and renovated facilities, and management of replacement furnishings (repair, replace, control, moving and handling, inventory, warehousing, and disposal).

Child and Youth Programs

This category assists Department of Defense (DoD) military and civilian personnel in balancing the competing demands of family life and accomplishment of the DoD mission by managing and delivering a system of quality, available, and affordable programs and services (child development, school age, and youth program services) for eligible children and youth from birth through 18 years of age.

Warfighter and Family Services

Provides principal mission readiness resources for leaders at all levels, service members and their families, qualifying DoD personnel and their families, deployed civilians, and military retirees and their families by offering information, education, prevention and intervention, and services necessary to address the unique personal and family readiness needs of the mobile and/or deployed military community.

Morale, Welfare and Recreation (MWR)

Provides appropriated fund resources for all Category A activities (Mission-Sustaining Activities) in support of programs that promote the physical and mental well-being of military members, their families, and other authorized users as defined by DoD Instruction (DoDI) 1015.10. Provides appropriated fund resources for all Category B activities (Community Support Programs) in support of programs, closely related to mission sustaining programs, which satisfy the physiological and psychological needs of military members, their families, and other authorized users. Provides appropriated fund resources for all Category C activities (Revenue-Generating Programs) in support of programs at designated remote and isolated locations as defined and authorized in Enclosures 4 and 5 of DoDI 1015.10.

Lodging

Includes Temporary Duty (TDY) Lodging and Permanent Change of Station (PCS) Lodging. It provides resources for lodging and related services to authorized TDY personnel to support mission readiness and maintain maximum occupancy in DoD facilities to reduce official travel costs. As well, it provides resources for lodging and related services to authorized personnel and family members to support PCS travel and maintain maximum occupancy in DoD facilities to reduce official and personal travel costs.

Airfield Operations:

Provides contract airfield services for transient US military aircraft and aircrew.

Information Technology (IT)

Includes delivery of services consisting of secure and non-secure fixed voice communications, wireless voice, data and video connectivity services, and video conferencing services. Provides infrastructure support (design, installation, and maintenance) of special circuits/systems in support of life, safety, and security systems; and monitoring and control systems. Provides collaboration and messaging services and tools for the workforce to communicate and share information. Provides application and web-hosting operations and management services. Provides for IT Operations Centers including systems and processes necessary to allow customers to have seamless access to IT applications and solutions. Provides Desktop Management Support for end-user hardware and software services and tools. Provides Service Desk Support, Continuity of Operations and Disaster Recovery support, requirements and training for common-user software applications, Information Assurance, and Multimedia and Visual Information. Provides printing, publication, and duplication services.

The Air Force manages IT using an Enterprise Information Technology (EIT) governance process which provide oversight and management of Air Force enterprise-wide IT strategies, investment priorities, performance measures, portfolio roadmaps, and risks.

Command Support

Includes Wing command staff agency functions formerly part of Base Operating Support (BOS) such as Command Management, Inspector General, Plans and Programs, Public Affairs, Judge Advocate General, Financial Management, Procurement, Chaplain Ministries, Ground, Flight and Weapons Safety.

Collateral Equipment

Provides procurement of furniture, fixtures, and other furnishings associated with Facilities Restoration and Modernization projects, including projects in the Military Construction program. This does not include dormitory and housing furnishings.

Civilian Personnel Services

Includes planning, management, coordination, and execution of Civilian Personnel Services for the life-cycle management of human capital at installations for the Appropriated Fund civilian workforce, military personnel and their families.

Military Personnel Services

Provides customer support services that directly provide or indirectly result in tangible benefits to the military community or the mission. Provides military personnel information system customer support services. Includes processing workforce changes required to accomplish the DoD mission.

Installation Law Enforcement (LE) Operations

Includes enforcement of federal, state and military law and installation guidance; issuance of citations, detaining suspects, motor vehicle traffic management, traffic investigations, apprehension and restraint of offenders, and crowd control; crime prevention, crime detection, LE patrols, LE liaison, apprehension of persons who commit crimes on the installation; testifying in prosecution cases; and temporary detention of offenders. This includes protecting, defending, and deterring against criminal activities, conduct of minor investigations, the development of plans for the employment of LE activities and functions that include all processes intended to preserve the principles of law through various strategies.

Installation Physical Security Protection and Services

Includes personnel, procedures and equipment measures employed or designed to safeguard personnel, facilities and property from loss, destruction, espionage, terrorism, or sabotage on the installation; and prevent unauthorized access to facilities, installations, restricted areas, equipment, and materials. This includes regulation of people, material, and vehicles entering or exiting a designated area; mobile and static security activities for the protection of installation or government assets; conduct of physical security inspections and assessments; construction design reviews; special protection of high value or sensitive property and management of installation security systems, plans and funding.

Supply Logistics

Includes eight classes of supply: Class I-Subsistence; Class II-Clothing, individual equipment, and tools; Class III-Petroleum, oils, lubricants; Class IV-Construction materiel; Class VI-Personal demand items; Class VII-Major end items; Class IX-Repair parts and components; and Class X-Material to support non-military programs.

Community Logistics

Includes the execution of installation food services, laundry, and dry cleaning services. Installation food services includes the operation and administration of installation, remote, flight and ground support feeding; but excludes the cost of food, costs of non-installation field support, hospital food services, and Basic Allowances for Subsistence. Laundry and dry cleaning services includes cleaning and pressing textiles, garments, linens and other fabrics. Also, includes organizational clothing and individual equipment, other articles required by installation, and the sewing on of rank and unit patches on a service member's initial issue of clothing.

Transportation Logistics

Includes management and administration of acquisition dispatch, operation, maintenance, and disposal of all non-tactical government owned and controlled vehicles and transportation related equipment used for the day-to-day support of installation operations.

Environmental Conservation and Compliance

Provides for protection and enhancement of natural and cultural resources; consultations with environmental regulators; mapping and planning support systems. Environmental Compliance ensures all federal, state and local environmental laws are enforced. This is accomplished through sampling, analysis and monitoring; hazardous waste characterization and disposal; underground storage tank removal, repair, and replacement; leak detection and monitoring; spill response and clean-up; environmental surveys; training; and maintenance, repair and minor construction projects for environmental facilities and infrastructure.

Pollution Prevention

Established to prevent future pollution by reducing hazardous material use and release of pollutants into the environment as near zero as feasible to alleviate environmentally harmful discharges to the air, land, surface and ground water.

Facilities Operation

Covers a multitude of critically essential services. Funds mission capability through continuous daily services by purchasing utility commodities such as electricity, natural gas, drinking water, and sewage removal or by internally producing essential utility commodities through central plant operations. Addresses critical infrastructure needs through Power Purchase Agreements (PPAs), Energy Savings Performance Contracts (ESPCs), and Utility Energy Service Contracts (UESCs) by upgrading aging systems and implementing energy-efficient and resilient technologies to improve mission assurance and readiness. Moreover, Utilities Privatization (UP) provides robust and complex infrastructure improvements for critical missions with cost savings and budget predictability. Requirements demonstrate commitment to resilient and cost savings infrastructure, while ensuring long-term viability and support for mission and national security. Further, it provides essential human life safety and protection through activities such as Fire and Emergency Services (911 emergency control centers, fire protection, structural firefighting, aircraft crash rescue, and first responder capabilities); trash and refuse collection, removal, and disposal; cleaning, sanitizing, and bathroom resupply of publicly accessed, administrative, mission, and community support buildings through custodial services; clears snow and ice from roads and airfields; protects aircraft hazards through airfield and street sweeping operations; maintains natural infrastructure (airfield bird hazard management, grass, hazardous trees, weeds control, and wildlife) through grounds maintenance and entomology; code compliance such as cleaning food service hood and ducts, oil/water separators, lift stations, and performing inspections, and certifications on elevators and escalators, ground fuel tanks, cranes and hoists attached to real property, and fire alarms. Supports Base Operating Support (BOS) and Base Maintenance Contract (BMC) annual requirements. Provides Geospatial Engineering capabilities, enterprise information sharing and management capabilities, and facility-related industrial control system operations, maintenance and associated control system cybersecurity measures. Additionally, provides engineering operations, engineering services, and real property management required to support municipal-type activities and includes real property leases to meet mission needs.

II. Force Structure Summary:

This program provides funding for installation support functions, engineering and environmental programs in support of all Active Air Force Major Commands and the United States Air Force Academy. Beginning in FY 2022, funding for Space Force bases was transferred from the Air Force to the Space Force. The program sustains mission capability, enhances quality of life, enables workforce productivity, and provides infrastructure support.

Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Operating Forces
Activity Group: Combat Related Operations
Detail by Subactivity Group: Global C3I & Early Warning

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Global Command, Control, Communication, Intelligence (C3I) and Early Warning includes resources that provide Air Force-wide Strategic Offensive and Defensive C3I. Strategic Offensive C3I and Computer (C4I) assets comprise the media through which interconnected airborne and ground-based command centers execute commands for offensive strikes against opposing threats. This capability relies on systems that are fast, accurate, reliable, secure, resistant to destruction and disruption, and tailored to the needs of the President of the United States, Secretary of Defense, North American Aerospace Defense (NORAD), United States Northern Command (USNORTHCOM), United States Strategic Command (USSTRATCOM) and operational commanders.

Strategic Defensive C3I supports radar surveillance and the tactical warning mission to provide radar surveillance and timely, reliable warning of enemy attack through employment of a worldwide network of assets such as: the Joint Surveillance System long-range radar sites, the North Warning System (NWS), the North Atlantic Defense System, and the Integrated Tactical Warning and Attack Assessment (ITW/AA) system.

Air Force-wide communications programs support development of a survivable communications capability for worldwide Command and Control (C2) communications during pre-attack, trans-attack and post-attack periods. Current Air Force C2 communications provide satellite communication terminal facilities and activation of the Military Strategic and Tactical Relay Mission Control Segment required for system operations. The Military Satellite Communication (MILSATCOM) program will be able to first sustain current capability and then modernize the MILSATCOM infrastructure on a system-to-system basis. The backbone of the entire C2 system is the Global Command and Control System (GCCS), the Department of Defense's single, compatible, integrated C4I system. GCCS supports all echelons of United States military command structure and provides a single view of the military C4I for the warfighter through a widely distributed user-driven network. Additionally, in an effort to improve C2 capabilities across the Department of Defense and ensure true joint operations in the future, the Joint Staff established Joint All Domain Command and Control (JADC2). JADC2 efforts in this Subactivity Group include development of the C2 Common Platform which provides a C2 backbone for Joint All Domain capabilities across a multi-region hybrid cloud architecture, training, and the Shadow Operations Center at Nellis Air Force Base, NV. JADC2 will enable the structure for resilient and agile operations necessary to ensure US dominance in all domains. It will support multi-domain operations with interdependent alignment across the Joint Force and Combatant Commands. Battlefield Airborne Communications Node (BACN) provides an airborne, persistent and responsive combat network capability for voice and data to command and control centers.

The Air Force is the Executive Agent for the Department of Defense (DoD) Mission Partner Environment (MPE). MPE enables the DoD to execute its assigned missions with mission partners across all phases of operations that assist combined C2 of coalition forces while meeting the information sharing requirements within existing bi-lateral and multi-lateral agreements. Also, it promotes effective information exchanges and provides applications to enable effective use of the US and Partner nation military power. MPE provides the warfighter mission with technology to improve mission effectiveness and cyber security.

The Air Force Air Traffic Control and Landing System (ATCALs) combines Air Force fixed-base, deployable ground facilities and equipment with associated avionics, personnel and procedures to provide safe, orderly and expeditious aerospace vehicle movements on a worldwide basis under visual and instrument flight rule weather conditions. The program encompasses the sustainment, replacement and modification of those systems which are common to the Department of Defense's international mission and are not provided solely by the Federal Aviation Administration or host nation in a variety of major functional areas. Provides United States Africa Command Air Domain Security and Safety capability that builds partnerships in Africa, and enhances international air mobility and safety.

The Air Force Weather Program supports combat and specialized operations, management, readiness and sustainment of Air Force weather and space environmental capabilities and systems. The program also provides weather observing and prediction capabilities supporting the Air Force, Army, Special Forces, Unified Commands, national intelligence and other national agencies. It ensures specialized combat capabilities are provided in support of Air Force, Army and Special Forces operations worldwide, and provides for the centralized strategic support services of the 557th Weather Wing (Offutt AFB, NE), Air Force Combat Climatology Center (Asheville, NC), Air Force Combat Weather Center (Hurlburt Field, FL), solar observing sites (Australia, Italy, Hawaii, New Mexico, and Massachusetts) and the Joint Typhoon Warning Center (Pearl Harbor, HI). The system also provides space environmental observation and prediction capabilities required to continuously monitor solar activity and to assess the impacts on military space, communications, and navigation systems.

II. Force Structure Summary:

The Air Force Global Command and Control System (GCCS) is located worldwide. Servers are located at host sites, predominantly at Major Command headquarters, Air Component headquarters, and Air Force-supported Combatant Commander sites. Lower echelon GCCS sites are linked net-centrally to a host site to receive access.

The EQ-4 and E-11 are the platforms for Battlefield Airborne Communications Node (BACN) which provides an airborne, persistent and responsive combat network capability for voice and data to command and control centers.

The National Military Command System (NMCS) is a network of sites supporting the nation's strategic watch mission as the crisis center of all Joint Chiefs of Staff activity. The NMCS provides effective coordination and liaison with other United States government agencies such as the White House Situation Room, the Department of State, the Central Intelligence Agency and the National Security Agency.

The Joint Surveillance System has sites in Alaska and in the Continental United States (CONUS). All sites other than one CONUS site are operated jointly with the Federal Aviation Administration. These sites provide Command, Control and Communications (C3) and air surveillance capability in support of North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD) atmospheric tactical warning and attack assessment, air sovereignty and air defense requirements.

Worldwide Joint Strategic Communications consists of U.S. Strategic Command (USSTRATCOM), Air Force Global Strike Command (AFGSC), and Air Force Chief of Staff strategic command and control missions supported with programs, systems and networks for the dissemination of critical orders to unit command posts and deployable mobile support teams. This program supports command and control of nuclear weapons and provides emergency notification, dispersal and survivability of strategic forces. The CONUS NORAD region is comprised of the joint-use radars located around the periphery of the CONUS, which feed into the Eastern and Western Defense Operations Centers and the regional centers located in Alaska and Hawaii. In addition, there are numerous enroute joint-use radars within the CONUS providing data into the Defensive Operations Centers (DOCs). The DOCs report to the Combined Air Operations Center (CAOC), which reports to the NORAD Commander. The NORAD Commander's direction through the CAOC and DOCs together provide C2 of forces for airspace control and air defense against atmospheric attack. Both receive sensor data from radar sites to detect, track, identify and intercept, if necessary, hostile or non-cooperative aircraft penetrating or operating within United States sovereign airspace.

The North Warning System (replaced the Distant Early Warning system) consists of minimally attended radars, gap filler unattended radars, and engineering logistic set radar at the depot. The program is jointly executed on a 60 percent United States and 40 percent Canada functional basis.

The deployable Air Force Air Traffic Control and Landing System (ATCALS), in the tactical environment, includes mobile and transportable Airport Surveillance Radar (ASR) and Precision Approach Radar (PAR), mobile control towers, mobile Tactical Air Navigation systems (TACANs), mobile Very High Frequency Omnidirectional Range (VOR), Very High Frequency Omni-directional Range Collocated Tactical Air (VORTAC), and the Mobile Microwave Landing System. In the fixed-base environment, which includes both the United States National Airspace System and support in overseas host nations, ATCALS include fixed airport surveillance and precision approach radars, control towers, TACANs, VORs, VORTACs, Instrument Landing Systems (ILS) and air traffic control simulators. ATCALS automation and software systems include the Department of Defense Advanced Automation System, the Airfield Automation System and the Terminal Instrument Procedures development software tool.

a) Transfers In $678

1) Civilian Pay - Classified Transfer $678

Increase transfers funding and manpower to Global C3I & Early Warning (Subactivity Group 12A, +$678, 6 FTEs) from Tactical Intelligence and Special Activities (Subactivity Group 12F, -$678). Details will be provided under separate cover by the Office of the Secretary of Defense Special Access Program Central Office to properly cleared individuals on a need-to-know basis.

b) Transfers Out $-20,047

1) Nuclear Deterrence - World Wide Joint Strategic Communications $-17,931

Decrease reflects a transfer from Global C3I and Early Warning (Subactivity 12A -$17,931) to Other Procurement, Air Force (+17,931) for the World Wide Joint Strategic Communications system. As new sites come online, initial spares and repair parts will be funded through procurement, rather than operation and maintenance, to support the system's growth and development.

2) Civilian Pay - Data & Sensor Strategy Manpower Realignment.....$-1,663

Decrease transfers funding and manpower from Global C3I & Early Warning (Subactivity Group 12A, $-1,663, 22 FTEs) to Combat Enhancement Forces (Subactivity Group 11C, +$1,770, 10 FTEs) and Other Combat Operations Support Programs (Subactivity Group 12C, +$1,976, 12 FTEs) to bolster the Air Force's (AF) core objectives: developing talent, generating readiness, projecting power, and advancing capabilities. This increase in manpower will strengthen the AF's Information Operations and Tactical Deception Programs. This enhancement will facilitate the AF's transition to an information-centric platform, better positioning it to address evolving challenges in both competition and conflict.

1) Civilian Pay - Average Workyear Cost Adjustment..... $6,991

Increase in funding and manpower (31 FTEs) for Civilian Personnel compensation to adjust Full-Time Equivalent and average workyear costs. Each year, the Air Force uses detailed execution and cost factor analysis to realign and update civilian compensation costs and manpower for the purpose of accurately forecasting budget estimates for the civilian workforce. The Subactivity Group average cost adjustment is a result of these changes as well as updated pay raise, awards, and benefit assumptions.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Resources for this Subactivity Group provide manpower, support equipment, facilities and other items in support of combat evaluation groups and strategic missile evaluation squadrons; defensive training; civil engineer heavy repair squadrons (RED HORSE); and Defense System Evaluation Squadrons and Radar Evaluation Squadrons. Additionally, this program provides support to the North American Aerospace Defense Command, U.S. Northern Command, U.S. Central Command Combatant Headquarters, and combatant command activities; and organizations, activities, and procedures structured to provide intelligence and intelligence functional support to Air Force Strategic, Mobility and Combat Air Forces.

This Subactivity Group also supports other Air Force tactical force elements; aircraft delivery; commercial imagery tasking, ordering, processing, exploitation, and dissemination system development and operations resources; national security emergency management and preparedness, including military support to civil authorities, civil law enforcement agencies, and other related National Security Emergency Preparedness programs; engineering installation support; air base ground defense and anti-terrorism programs; base physical security systems (such as perimeter detection sensors); nuclear, chemical, and biological defensive equipment items and materials; explosive ordnance disposal forces; expeditionary, readiness, and general engineering programs; specialized equipment to mislead hostile intelligence regarding the disposition of Air Force tactical forces; combat development activities to support experimentation, tests, projects, evaluations necessary to develop and validate new weapon systems, doctrine, material and organization; and electronic combat intelligence support programs.

It identifies critical asset and infrastructure for all Air Force essential functions, missions, and capabilities; prioritizes assets and assesses risk of loss or degradation to the assets; identifies and implements risk management decisions, tracks and monitors operational impact of critical assets and infrastructure. Also, it provides engineering and installation support for sustainment of cable plants, communication distribution systems, building wiring, radio and satellite antennas, and land mobile radio systems throughout Air Combat Command (ACC), Pacific Air Forces (PACAF) and United States Air Forces Europe (USAFE).

II. Force Structure Summary:

Other Combat Operations supports four squadrons of combat development aircraft across multiple platforms to include F-15, F-16, F-22A, and E-9. The Readiness Weapon System Evaluation Program provides centralized expertise to enhance capabilities and employment effectiveness of all Combat Air Force (CAF) fighter, bomber, and tactical weapon systems. Other Combat Operations manages and executes Force Development Evaluation, and Tactics Development and Evaluation of all CAF weapon systems. The program supports three exercises: Combat Archer (air-to-air), Combat Banner (aerial gunnery) and Combat Hammer (air-to-ground). Installation Operations and Security includes Joint Light Tactical Vehicles used by Security Forces to perform armament carrier, ambulance and reconnaissance roles.

1) Civilian Pay - Average Workyear Cost Adjustment.....	$3,423
Increase in funding to Civilian Personnel compensation adjusts average workyear costs. Each year, the Air Force uses detailed execution and cost factor analysis to realign and update civilian compensation costs and manpower for the purpose of accurately forecasting budget estimates for the civilian workforce. The Subactivity Group average cost adjustment is a result of these changes as well as updated pay raise, awards, and benefit assumptions.

Detail by Subactivity Group: Cyberspace Activities

I. Description of Operations Financed

Cyberspace Activities funds the degree of dominance in cyberspace that permits the secure, reliable conduct of operations and its related air, land, maritime, and space forces without prohibitive interference by an adversary. The Air Force categorizes Defensive Cyberspace and Offensive Cyberspace Operations as various components of Cyberspace Activities. The focus of Cyberspace Activities align with the Department of Defense (DoD) Cyber Strategy's three primary missions: defend DoD networks and ensure their data is held secure; support joint military commander objectives; and defend US critical infrastructure. Defensive Cyberspace Operations are intended to defend DoD or other friendly cyberspace actors. The Air Force will sustain the operational capability of the Cyberspace Vulnerability Assessment/Hunter mission. They also leverage the Active and Reserve Component to increase capacity and support Cyber Protection Teams. Offensive Cyberspace Operations are intended to project power by the application of force in and through cyberspace. The Air Force is continuing to provide forces to U.S. Cyber Command (USCYBERCOM) for the National and Combat Mission Teams supporting mission objectives.

II. Force Structure Summary

The unique attributes of cyberspace activities require trained and ready cyberspace forces to detect, deter, and respond to threats in cyberspace. Securing and defending cyberspace requires close collaboration among federal, state, and local governments; private sector and allied partners. Cyberspace activities also provide information assurance and cyber security to the Department's networks at all levels.

1) Mission Assurance Consolidation $9,370

Increase reflects realignment to Defensive Cyberspace Operations (Subactivity Group 12D +$9,370) from Base Support (Subactivity Group 11Z -$9,370) to support Defense Critical Infrastructure through mission assurance efforts to protect and ensure the continued function and resilience of capabilities and assets. Critical infrastructure protection consists of actions taken to prevent, remediate, or mitigate risks resulting from vulnerabilities of critical infrastructure assets.

c) Program Growth in FY 2026 $26,374

1) Civilian Pay - Average Workyear Cost Adjustment..... $3,050

Increase funding in Civilian Personnel compensation adjusts average workyear costs. Each year Air Force uses detailed execution and cost factor analysis to update civilian compensation costs for the purpose of accurately forecasting budget estimates for the civilian workforce. The Subactivity Group average cost adjustment is a result of these cost changes as well as updated pay raise, awards, and benefit assumptions.

2) Cyberspace Operations- Cyber Forces Development..... $9,897
 Increase directly supports Cyber Command's directive to modernize and expand training infrastructure and curriculum. It ensures the Services can recruit and train personnel to CYBERCOM standards and retain that talent - ultimately sustaining a capable, mission-ready cyber force.

OP32:
 308 Travel of Persons

(FY 2025 Base: $305,685)

3) Cyberspace Security - Golden Dome $9,000
 Increase funds additional cybersecurity, resiliency, and mitigation requirements via contract modifications for the Golden Dome architecture, prioritizing C2 and data processing nodes.

OP32:
 923 Facility Sustain Restore Modernization

(FY 2025 Base: $64,040)

4) Defensive Cyberspace Operations - Integrated Defensive Cyber Systems $4,427
 Increase supports Integrated Defensive Cyber Systems (IDCS) capabilities that provide cyberspace defense, protecting Air Force networks and missions from internal and external threats. These capabilities allow the Air Force to monitor cyber terrains, install and utilize data sensors, and connect data platforms.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Medical Readiness provides medical operational support tailored and designed to enhance operational mission performance and the performance of individual Airmen through targeted, evidence-based interventions in mitigating risks and stressors across the Military Departments. It provides resources for Global Health Engagement and medical readiness programs above the Military Treatment Facility delivering critical support to the operational squadrons across the enterprise. Support includes En-Route Patient Staging, Human Performance Wing Aerospace Physiology & Centrifuge, and other operational medical requirements. Medical Operations also delivers aeromedical capabilities such as patient movement and necessary medical equipment requirements for the installation and/or mission with specific medical capabilities necessary to properly respond to an incident and to identify casualties in the response.

Medical preparedness supports operations with the capability to sustain requirements at the Major Commands, contingency operations and wartime requirements through the provision and prepositioning of medical and war readiness materials, deployable contingency hospitals and clinics, and installation Medical Counter-Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear (C-CBRN) Installation Response Program. The Medical C-CBRN Installation Response Program increases an installation's capability to respond and generate the mission after an incident and provides the installation with specific medical capabilities necessary to properly identify CBRN agents when responding to an incident and to treat CBRN casualties in the aftermath. Funding supports the maintenance and repair of portable hospitals, clinics and other medical war readiness materials; from critical care-in-the-air to man-portable medical care at the forward edge of the battle area.

Medical Education and Training provides support for education and training opportunities for personnel through the following categories: Medical Readiness Exercises, Human Performance Wing programs, Air Force Institute of Technology medical officer scholarships and loans, Health Professions Scholarship Program, Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS), Professional Military Education, Continuing Medical Education, Functional Training, Long Term Health Education and Training, and Pre-Deployment Training.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Medical readiness activities employ manpower in support of operational, infrastructure support, and training requirements at the Major Commands and overseas operations hospitals.

Detail by Subactivity Group: Combatant Command Mission Operations - USNORTHCOM

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Funding in this Sub Activity Group supports the U.S. Northern Command (USNORTHCOM) and North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD). USNORTHCOM's mission is to provide for the functional combatant capability and geographic worldwide mobility of United States' forces. This funding is critical to defending the homeland and deterring foreign adversaries by executing the Interim National Defense Strategic Guidance (INDSG) of the United States. USNORTHCOM conducts homeland defense, civil support, and security cooperation to defend and secure the US and its interests. It defends America's homeland, people, national power, and freedom of action. USNORTHCOM also supports federal, state, and National Guard partners in responding to natural and man-made disasters by maintaining close collaboration with Homeland Defense, security, and law enforcement partners. NORAD conducts persistent aerospace warning, aerospace control, and maritime warning in the defense of North America by processing, assessing, and disseminating intelligence and information related to the aerospace and maritime domains, and responding to threats as necessary and the changing conditions in the Arctic.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Combatant Command direct mission funding supports the various geographic and functional missions assigned to support the INDSG. The Air Force is the Combatant Command Support Agent (CCSA) for USNORTHCOM and NORAD. As the CCSA, the Air Force is responsible for funding Combatant Command (CCMD) mission areas such as theater security cooperation to focus on strengthening alliances with Mexico and the Bahamas to further regional security and readiness, foster friendly networks with other Department of Defense, federal interagency and regional partners to disrupt threat networks and combat weapons of mass destruction. The shared interest and alliance of Canada and the U.S. ensures a security partnership of extraordinary strength and forms the foundation to integrated air defense to deter and counter nation-state and terrorist threats. Associated planning and exercises with our partners ensures realistic training is provided to prepare warfighters executing their missions in the ambiguity of a crisis.

Detail by Subactivity Group: Combatant Command Mission Operations - USSTRATCOM

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Funding in this Sub Activity Group resources U.S. Strategic Command (USSTRATCOM) core operations and mission support to deter strategic attack and as directed employ forces to guarantee the security of our nation and our allies. Funding supports the operations and administration of the Combatant Command headquarters staff, including civilian pay, travel, supplies, and training. This funding is critical to defending the homeland and deterring foreign adversaries by executing the Interim National Defense Strategic Guidance (INDSG).

II. Force Structure Summary:

The Air Force is the Combatant Command Support Agent (CCSA) for USSTRATCOM. As the CCSA, the Air Force is responsible for funding Combatant Command (CCMD) Unified Command Plan missions to include strategic deterrence, nuclear operations, joint electromagnetic spectrum operations, global strike, missile defense, analysis and targeting, missile threat assessment, and associated planning and exercises to ensure combat readiness and provide fully capable strategic forces. To achieve this mission USSTRATCOM demonstrates its capabilities through routine deployments, tests, exercises, and operations of forces to show we are ready with defense and response options to fight and win. USSTRATCOM integrates its Defense Critical Missions and implements the Joint Strategic Campaign Plan by engaging with the Joint Force, Allies, and partners. USSTRATCOM's forces and capabilities underpin and enable all other Joint Force operations and as a Functional CCMD, coordinates the planning, employment, and operation of Department of Defense strategic assets crossing multiple geographic command boundaries and through all war fighting domains. USSTRATCOM strengthens relationships by engaging military, government, allied, academic, non-governmental, and commercial entities that contribute toward campaign and alliance objectives.

Detail by Subactivity Group: Combatant Command Mission Operations - USCENTCOM

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Funding in this Sub Activity Group supports the U.S. Central Command (USCENTCOM) and their mission to provide for the functional combatant capability and geographic worldwide mobility of U.S. forces. This funding is critical to defending the homeland and deterring foreign adversaries by executing Interim National Defense Strategic Guidance (INDSG).

II. Force Structure Summary:

Combatant Command (CCMD) direct mission funding supports the various geographic and functional missions assigned to support the INDSG. The Air Force is the Combatant Command Support Agent (CCSA) for USCENTCOM. As the CCSA, the Air Force is responsible for restoring readiness and strengthening alliances as well as funding CCMD mission areas such as theater security cooperation, combating weapons of mass destruction, associated planning and exercises to ensure combat readiness. USCENTCOM is the unified command responsible for the US security interests in nations stretching from the Arabian Gulf region, to the Western portions of the Indian Ocean, and into Central Asia. The region comprises an area larger than the continental United States. USCENTCOM maintains a significant forward presence in the area of responsibility (AOR) consisting of combat forces from all four services. USCENTCOM executes all US military engagement activities, planning, and operations within the area of responsibility to include Syria, Iraq, and Afghanistan. Additionally, USCENTCOM is responsible for peacetime engagement planning and program execution for the five countries in the Central Asian Region: Turkmenistan, Uzbekistan, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, and Tajikistan.

Detail by Subactivity Group: Combatant Command Mission Operations - USSOCOM

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Funding in this Sub Activity Group supports the U.S. Special Operations Command (USSOCOM) and mission to provide for the functional combatant capability and geographic worldwide mobility of U.S. Special Operations Forces. This funding is critical to defending the homeland and deterring foreign adversaries by executing Interim National Defense Strategic Guidance (INDSG).

II. Force Structure Summary:

Combatant Command (CCMD) direct mission funding supports the various geographic and functional missions assigned to support INDSG. The Air Force is the Combatant Command Support Agent (CCSA) for USSOCOM. As the CCSA, the Air Force is responsible for funding CCMD mission areas to provide fully capable Special Operations Forces (SOF) to defend the U.S. and its interests, and to plan and synchronize operations against terrorist networks. To achieve this mission, USSOCOM develops joint SOF tactics, techniques, and procedures for SOF commanders and staff to plan and lead a full range of lethal and non-lethal special operations missions in complex and ambiguous environments. Likewise, SOF personnel serve as key members of Joint, Interagency, and International teams. They require preparation to employ all assigned authorities and apply all available elements of power to accomplish assigned missions. In this capacity, SOF personnel must maintain the highest degree of professionalism, cultural awareness, responsiveness, and initiative.

Detail by Subactivity Group: Combatant Command Mission Operations - USTRANSCOM

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Funding in this Sub Activity Group supports the U.S. Transportation Command (USTRANSCOM) and its mission to provide for the functional combatant capability and geographic worldwide mobility of U.S. forces. This funding is critical to mobilizing forces required for operations supporting Interim National Defense Strategic Guidance (INDSG).

II. Force Structure Summary:

Combatant Command (CCMD) direct mission funding supports the various geographic and functional missions assigned to support INDSG. The Air Force is the Combatant Command Support Agent (CCSA) for USTRANSCOM. The Air Force is responsible for funding CCMD mission areas such as full-spectrum global mobility solutions and enabling capabilities to customers in peace and war time. USTRANSCOM provides the United States with the most responsive and strategic mobility capability the world has ever seen. USTRANSCOM is a functional unified combatant command with missions assigned by the President in the Unified Command Plan. USTRANSCOM's responsibilities, functions, relationships, and authorities are delineated further in DoD Directive 5158.04, United States Transportation Command, including its role as the Distribution Process Owner (DPO). As DPO, USTRANSCOM implements policy for overseeing and coordinating DoD-wide distribution processes, including force projection, sustainment, redeployment, and retrograde operations. USTRANSCOM is the Mobility Joint Force Provider, identifying and recommending global joint sourcing solutions for all mobility forces and capabilities, and supervising the implementation of sourcing decisions. USTRANSCOM is DoD's Single Manager for Transportation, providing common-user and commercial air, land, and sea transportation, terminal management, and aerial refueling support. The Joint Enabling Capabilities Command (JECC), a subordinate command of USTRANSCOM provides mission-tailored, joint capability packages to combatant commanders in order to facilitate the rapid establishment of joint force headquarters, fulfill Global Response Force execution, and bridge joint operational requirements. USTRANSCOM subordinate commands provide flexible, expeditionary joint planners, public affairs, and communications experts who are experienced in complex joint operations.

I. Description of Operations Financed

Funding supports the U.S. Central Command (USCENTCOM) Joint Cyber Cell (JCC) mission to secure and defend command information networks. USCENTCOM is the unified command responsible for the U.S. security interests in nations stretching from the Arabian Gulf region to Western portions of the Indian Ocean and into Central Asia.

II. Force Structure Summary

The Joint Cyber Cell (JCC) accomplishes mission objectives through two lines of effort: protect and defend U.S. cyberspace interests and ensure commander's freedom of action in and through cyberspace by synchronizing command activities with USCYBERCOM and the designated USCYBERCOM Service component.

Detail by Subactivity Group: Combatant Command Mission Operations – USSPACECOM

I. Description of Operations Financed

Funding in this Subactivity Group supports the U.S. Space Command (USSPACECOM) mission to serve as the Joint Force Provider and Joint Force Trainer for Space Operations Forces responsible for integrated attack warning and space operations to include control of space and directing space support activities, as well as operational planning for defending against ballistic missiles. Funding includes the development of space war-fighting doctrine, tactics and techniques and accelerate technical advances to find more effective ways to defend U.S. assets in space to include numerous satellites that American forces rely on for navigation, communications and surveillance. USSPACECOM serves the national security interests of the U.S. and its allies worldwide by providing an organizational structure responsible for effective use of space by performing communications, weather tracking, navigation and warning. This funding is critical to accelerate our space capabilities so that we can deter our adversaries and defend our national interests.

II. Force Structure Summary

The Air Force is the Combatant Command Support Agent (CCSA) for USSPACECOM. USSPACECOM direct mission funding supports operations in, from, and to space to deter conflict, and if necessary, defeat aggression, deliver space combat power for the Joint/Combined force, and defend U.S. vital interests with allies and partners. The mission involves four distinct areas of focus:

Deter Aggression: USSPACECOM strengthens our national deterrence through the provision of space warfighting options that preserve the U.S. and Allied competitive advantage while promoting security and stability to ensure conflict does not begin or migrate into the space domain.

Defeat our Nation's Enemies through Posture and Preparedness: Should deterrence fail, USSPACECOM is postured to rapidly transition from competition to conflict and achieve space superiority with the world's premier joint space warfighters to defeat our nation's enemies.

Deliver Space Combat Power: USSPACECOM enhances warfighting readiness and lethality through the integration of space capabilities with the joint force, allies, and inter-agency partners in all domains.

Defend U.S., Allied, and Partner Interests: USSPACECOM, in coordination with Allies, the joint force, and inter-agency partners, conduct combined space operations to protect our combined interests and secure critical capabilities.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Airlift Operations plays a vital role in the nation's defense by enabling the movement of people, supplies and equipment to critical locations around the world. Additionally, these operations provide opportunities for Air Force pilots and aircrews to gain much needed flight experience which improves readiness. Airlift Operations contains seven major programs: Airlift Mission Training (AMT), Operational Support Airlift (OSA), Airlift Readiness Account (ARA), Mobility Support Activities (MSA), Mobility Airlift Forces, Mobility Command and Control, and Tanker Operations.

The primary mission within AMT is Training, Test, and Ferry (TTF). TTF enables the Air Mobility Command to meet wartime mobility proficiency requirements, provides local readiness training hours for C-5 and C-17 aircrews, funds the testing of new systems such as parachute deployment and other aircraft systems, and provides transportation of aircraft to and from depot maintenance.

OSA provides the movement of support packages (communications equipment, security details, vehicles) to accompany distinguished visitor travel and special missions for remains recovery of fallen personnel. This includes airlift mission support packages for the President and Vice President of the United States (POTUS/VPOTUS) and onsite maintenance services at the travel destinations.

The ARA covers the difference between revenue and expenses for airlift within the Transportation Working Capital Fund enabling USTRANSCOM to charge stable rates for the military departments, unified combatant commands, and other customers. Overall, Defense Working Capital Fund activities are required to recover all costs through customer reimbursements. However, the Transportation Working Capital Fund does not fully recover all costs through rates charged to customers. Customers are charged commercially competitive rates for products and services received. The Airlift Readiness Account covers airlift costs which exceed rate and direct reimbursement revenue.

The remaining major programs within Airlift Operations fund the squadron operations for the respective platforms. Squadron operations primarily include salaries of civilian personnel, contractor support, supplies/equipment, and travel. In addition, MSA supports airborne senior leader command, control, and communications suites by providing secure and non-secure voice, data, and video connectivity, seamless and dedicated satellite communications service and support across global airbridge routes, in accordance with White House Military Office requirements. This eliminates the need for senior leaders to compete with non-DoD customers for network access on modified platforms. Also, High Capacity Cross-Strap provides increased bandwidth to support White House requirements for international operations. Support is provided to principals including: POTUS/VPOTUS, Secretary and Deputy Secretary of Defense, Secretary of State, Secretary of Homeland Security, Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Unified Combatant Commanders.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Airlift and air refueling operations support the Air Mobility Command, Scott Air Force Base (AFB), Illinois, which serves as the Air Force component of United States Transportation Command and Air Force District of Washington, Washington, DC. This Subactivity Group also supports the Numbered Air Force at Scott AFB, Illinois, the Expeditionary Center at Joint Base McGuire-Dix-Lakehurst, New Jersey (JBMDL) and the Tanker Airlift Control Center located at Scott AFB, Illinois.

2) Enhanced Theater Force Posture..... $334,802

Increase funding to provide necessary resources for theater posture in support of geographic combatant commander requirements. Funds the necessary operation and maintenance resources to sustain ongoing operations, support enhanced in-theater force protection requirements and maintain deterrence activities. In this Subactivity Group, funds airlift support and tanker operations requirements associated with the broader increased tempo and mission requirements in priority theaters.

2) Operational Support Airlift - Presidential Airlift Support Requirement$-350,000
 Decrease after a one-time increase in FY 2025 that necessitated the realignment of funding in the year-of-execution for an emergent requirement for higher than anticipated Special Assignment Requirements Directives (SARDs) airlift requirements including Presidential Airlift. These higher-than-expected billings were primarily a result of the 2024 Presidential election cycle and the ensuing administration change. This internal realignment of FY 2025 funding was reflected in the Air Force's Base for Reprogramming Actions (DD 1414) submitted post-enactment.

3) Airlift Readiness Account.....$-590,852

Decrease to align the FY 2026 Airlift Readiness Account (ARA) funding to the latest USTRANSCOM projections for operating shortfalls driven by channel mission expenses that exceed revenue at the published Working Capital Fund rates. The U.S. Air Force will continue to work with USTRANSCOM to refine ARA requirements projections to reduce occurrences of program shortfalls, or excesses, in the year of execution. Additionally, beginning in FY 2026, all programmed ARA funding will be entirely coded to baseline program and will no longer include any programmed funding for Overseas Operations Costs (OOC). The FY 2026 budget includes the internal realignment of funding from OOC to baseline program and the net effect is reflected here:

Baseline Program -$71,200 (FY 2025 Base: $679,036)
Overseas Operations Costs -$519,652 (FY 2025 Base: $508,964)

OP32:

4) Civilian Pay - Average Workyear Cost Adjustment.....$-11,664

Decrease funding in Civilian Personnel compensation adjusts average workyear costs. Each year Air Force uses detailed execution and cost factor analysis to update civilian compensation costs for the purpose of accurately forecasting budget estimates for the civilian workforce. The Subactivity Group average cost adjustment is a result of these cost changes as well as updated pay raise, awards, and benefit assumptions.

Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Mobilization
Activity Group: Mobility Operations
Detail by Subactivity Group: Mobilization Preparedness

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Mobilization preparedness supports mobility operations with the capability to sustain contingency operations and wartime requirements through the provision and prepositioning of War Reserve Materiel (WRM), Basic Expeditionary Airfield Resources (BEAR), theater nuclear weapon storage and security systems, industrial preparedness, and inactive aircraft storage.

WRM is enterprise-managed pre-positioned equipment, afloat pre-positioning vessels, vehicles and consumables that support a full range of military operations and humanitarian efforts. This includes the munition International Organization for Standardization (ISO) Container Program for global operations. Funding includes the Overseas Operations Costs (OOC) and mission support across multiple theaters of operations.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Mobilization preparedness activities employ personnel that support requirements at in-garrison installations throughout the nine Air Force Major Commands and at nuclear storage sites and contingency hospitals around the world.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Officer Acquisitions supports three officer accession training programs in the Air Force. The majority of the funding supports the United States Air Force Academy (USAFA), to include direct mission support for cadets, preparatory school students, and faculty. The cadet Support Services contract is essential for Air Force Academy operations, supporting cadet area facility services, quarter furnishings, equipment, delivery of curriculum, athletics, and military training. This capability maintains the health and safety of over 4,000 cadets, provides dormitory security, and sustains facilities and equipment. The remaining funding supports Officer Training School (OTS) and Warrant Officer Training School (WOTS), located at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama.

II. Force Structure Summary:

The USAFA is located in Colorado Springs, CO. Officer Training School is composed of Total Force Officer Training (OTS Full and OTS Abbreviated Courses) and Reserve Commissioned Officer Orientation (RCOO), located at Maxwell AFB, Alabama. Warrant Officer Training School is a 40-day, in-residence, accessions program, located at Maxwell AFB, Alabama.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Program supports recruiting and basic military training that transforms civilian recruits into disciplined, dedicated, physically fit Airmen for their entry into Active Duty Air Force, Air National Guard, and Air Force Reserve, as well as new Guardians entering the Space Force. Operations financed support the 737th Training Group located at Joint Base San Antonio - Lackland, Texas, where recruits receive seven weeks and one day (36 Academic Training Days) of basic military training in preparation for military duty.

II. Force Structure Summary:

The 737th Training Group operates nine squadrons to accomplish its mission of providing the fundamentals of military discipline, drill and ceremonies, and Air Force core values, training Battlefield Airmen Combat Skills in an expeditionary and operational environment in the field and provides personnel records management, job classification and discharge actions, as well as curriculum development and resource management support. Additionally, one flight within one of the squadrons is dedicated to Guardian training.

c) Program Growth in FY 2026 $97

1) Civilian Pay - Average Workyear Cost Adjustment..... $97
 Increase in funding for Civilian Personnel compensation adjusts average workyear costs. Each year, the Air Force uses detailed execution and cost factor analysis to realign and update civilian compensation costs and manpower for the purpose of accurately forecasting budget estimates for the civilian workforce. The Subactivity Group average cost adjustment is a result of these changes as well as updated pay raise, awards, and benefit assumptions.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) is the largest source of new officer accessions for the Air Force and the primary source of commissioning for technical Air Force Specialty Codes. The AFROTC mission is to develop quality leaders for the Air Force. The mission is primarily achieved through funding college scholarship tuition, textbooks and summer training programs. The AFROTC program is designed to recruit, educate, train, motivate, and commission officer candidates through a comprehensive college program.

II. Force Structure Summary:

This Subactivity Group supports AFROTC Detachments across 145 universities.

a) Annualization of New FY 2025 Program..... $0

b) One-Time FY 2026 Costs $0

c) Program Growth in FY 2026 $647

1) Civilian Pay - Manpower Realignment..... $0

Increase in manpower (7 FTEs) reflects an internal realignment of the Air Force (AF) workforce. The AF executed an agency wide reconciliation to better align the budgeted personnel distributions in its budgeting system to the agency's official manpower database. The AF will continue to evaluate and make necessary adjustments to ensure civilian personnel counts and compensation rates are accurately budgeted and are in alignment with the manpower database while implementing workforce optimization initiatives.

OP32:

101 Executive General Schedule

(FY 2025 Base: $8,015; FTE Base: 61; 7 FTE)

2) Reserve Officer Training Corps Programs..... $647

Increase in funds due to higher university tuition costs and a nominal increase in scholarships. Efforts continue to right-size the ROTC scholarship program resulting in less four-year scholarships and more two-year scholarships yielding an overall increase to the number of students on scholarship.

Notes:

AFROTC is a 4-Year program consisting of GMC and POC courses. GMC: General Military Course (Freshman/Sophomore Cadets), POC: Professional Officer Course (Junior/Senior Cadets)

Workload = Average daily student load across the national AFROTC program consisting of 145 detachments

- 1) All POC cadets are on contract with the Air Force to commission, regardless if on scholarship or not.
- 2) GMC cadets who are not on scholarship are not contracted with the Air Force to commission.
- 3) GMC cadets who are on scholarship are contracted with the Air Force to commission.
- 4) All GMC cadets, regardless if receiving a scholarship, must compete for an enrollment allocation and POC entry in their sophomore year.
- 5) Extended cadets receiving scholarships (i.e., those on approved 5-year technical degree programs) are included in the scholarship cadet totals.
- 6) Beginning in FY 2023, any POC cadet who has not previously earned a competitive scholarship (High School Scholarship Program-HSSP / In College Scholarship Program-ICSP) was offered a 2-year tuition award through the new BG Charles McGee Leadership Award (CMLA). As more cadets are taking advantage of the CMLA, the only cadets remaining in the Non Scholarships POC cadet category will be those who do not meet CMLA activation requirements.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Training and Recruiting
Activity Group: Basic Skills and Advanced Training
Detail by Subactivity Group: Specialized Skill Training

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Provides Department of the Air Force and other service members the initial skills training (Specialty Code awarding) and education essential to managing complex weapon systems and performing other mission-related tasks. Additionally, this training provides the enhanced technical skills needed throughout a member's career to accomplish the mission. Programs include requirements for initial, follow-on, and supplemental technical skills training. Initial skills training includes technical courses ranging in length from five to 50+ weeks. This training covers a broad spectrum of courses from intelligence, foreign language training initiatives, Defense English Language Program initiatives (for which Secretary of the Air Force (SECAF) is the Executive Agent), health care, and financial management, to precision measurement equipment repair, ultimately funding the training pipeline and mitigating unit-level under-manning. In addition, funding supports the development of Career Development Courses (CDCs) and end-of-course exams for Active Duty, Guard, and Reserve personnel, and sometimes includes Sister Services, Civil Air Patrol (CAP), Civilians, and Government Contractor Personnel.

II. Force Structure Summary:

This program funds eight specialized skills training centers, including subordinate detachments and operating locations at Goodfellow Air Force Base (AFB), Texas; Keesler AFB, Mississippi; Joint Base San-Antonio-Lackland (JBSA-Lackland), Texas; Maxwell AFB, Alabama; Vandenberg AFB, California; Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio; Defense Foreign Language Center, Monterey, California; and Sheppard AFB, Texas. For functional development, Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape (SERE) training is also accomplished at Fairchild AFB, Washington; and Eielson AFB, Alaska. Air Force Career Development Academy (AFCDA), headquartered at Keesler AFB, Mississippi with seven operational locations across four states, is the named Air Force authority and agency responsible to develop, deliver, and manage all Total Force career development courses (CDCs) and specialized courses in support of the total force upgrade training program.

Notes:

FY 2024, 2025, and 2026 numbers are from the AETC Decision Support System (ADSS) on January 28, 2025 and include calculation of weighted average course length. Outputs greater than inputs are possible due to Programmed Grads crossing fiscal year boundaries and where input was higher in previous fiscal year. Additionally, output numbers depend on where the class start dates are scheduled (i.e., near the end of the fiscal year, students will graduate in the next fiscal year thereby increasing output numbers).

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Flying training programs include Academy Glider and Powered Flight Programs, Introductory Flight Training (IFT), Undergraduate Pilot Training (UPT) (including Euro North Atlantic Treaty Organization Joint Jet Pilot Training (ENJJPT)), Combat System Officer (CSO) Training, Air Battle Manager (ABM) Training, Undergraduate Remotely Piloted Aircraft Training (URT), Introduction to Fighter Fundamentals (IFF), and Pilot Instructor Training (PIT). UPT is taught at three Air Education and Training Command (AETC) bases and one Army Base: Vance Air Force Base (AFB), Oklahoma; Columbus AFB, Mississippi; Laughlin AFB, Texas; and Fort Novosel, Alabama. ENJJPT produces pilots for the United States and participating NATO countries and is taught at Sheppard AFB, Texas. Three bases conduct IFF training for fighter-bound pilot training graduates: Joint Base San Antonio-Randolph (JBSA-Randolph), Texas; Columbus AFB, Mississippi; and Sheppard AFB, Texas. JBSA-Randolph's program also includes all PIT training where Instructor Pilots receive extensive training in their assigned aircraft (T-6, T-1, or T-38). Additionally, pilot training is provided to international students through the Aviation Leadership Program (ALP). CSO training is conducted at Naval Air Station (NAS) Pensacola, Florida; ABM Training at Tyndall AFB, Florida; and RPA training at JBSA-Randolph, Texas.

II. Force Structure Summary:

This Subactivity Group supports 11 aircraft types at eight flying training wings and operating bases. Aircraft types: T-1, T-6, T-38, TH-1H, TG-10, TG-15, TG-16, UV-18, T-41, T-51 and T-53. Operating bases: JBSA-Randolph, Texas; Vance AFB, Oklahoma; Columbus AFB, Mississippi; Laughlin AFB, Texas; Sheppard AFB, Texas; Ft Novosel, Alabama (redesignated from Fort Rucker, Alabama); USAF Academy, Colorado; and NAS Pensacola, Florida.

b) Transfers Out $-3,723

1) Civilian Pay - Medical Waiver Division.....$-730

Decrease transfers full-year funding and manpower from Flight Training (Subactivity Group 32B -$730, 5 FTEs) to Recruiting and Advertising (Subactivity Group 33A +730, 5 FTEs) to support the certification and waiver process for all initial flight and special duty standards for total force accessions as additional manpower will provide subject matter expert medical accession waiver and review decisions.

OP32:

101 Executive General Schedule

(FY 2025 Base: $298,575; FTE Base: 2,151; -5 FTE)

2) Civilian Pay - Military Education Investment.....$-2,993

Decrease transfers half-year funding and manpower from Flight Training (Subactivity Group 32B, -$2,993, 41 FTEs) to non-pay within the Subactivity Group for the investment in the TH-1H training aircraft. Divestment of manpower will support force development needs by enabling improvements to enterprise wide training scheduling functions and training material content management.

1) Advanced Flight Training - Advanced Pilot Trainer $50,118

Increase supports the restoral of baseline funding to rephase Operation & Maintenance requirements due to the T-7A program
Milestone C slip and previously programmed in Fiscal Year 2025. Funds will be used for initial furnishings and equipment stand-up.

OP32:

308 Travel of Persons

(FY 2025 Base: $101,314)

2) Civilian Pay - Increased Flying Training Unit Manpower $3,650

Increase half-year funding and manpower (5 FTEs) to prioritize increased training opportunities for pilot candidates. Additional manpower will increase the pathways to become a bomber pilot, aiding in manning shortfall, and maximizing number of flying training unit pilots per year.

OP32:

101 Executive General Schedule

(FY 2025 Base: $298,575; FTE Base: 2,151; 50 FTE)

3) Civilian Pay - T-7 Aircraft Fielding Manpower $730

Increase full-year funding and manpower to (5 FTEs) to cover the transition from the T-38 training aircraft to the advanced T-7 aircraft. The T-7 aircraft will deliver the leading edge undergraduate pilot training. The manpower functions will include systems engineering testing, evaluation logistics procurement, and the fielding of the T-7 replacement training aircraft.

4) Flight Training - Future Undergraduate Pilot Training $173,332

Increase to support a complete transformation of Undergraduate Pilot Training. The revision includes expanded curriculum replacing Initial Flight Training with Initial Pilot Training (IPT) where students receive approximately 120 flight hours, a Private Pilot Certificate (PPC), Instrument Rating (IR), and a Multi-Engine Land (MEL) rating via Part 141 FAA training. These training revisions further cement the path to meeting the DAF goal of producing 1,500 pilots annually. This is the first year of dedicated funding towards a multi-year effort.

1) Civilian Pay - Average Workyear Cost Adjustment.....$-20,146

Decrease funding in Civilian Personnel compensation adjusts average workyear costs. Each year Air Force uses detailed execution and cost factor analysis to update civilian compensation costs for the purpose of accurately forecasting budget estimates for the civilian workforce. The Subactivity Group average cost adjustment is a result of these cost changes as well as updated pay raise, awards, and benefit assumptions.

I. Description of Operations Financed

Air Force Professional Developmental Education (DE) programs are foundational programs that support and enhance all aspects of Air Force operations. DE programs teach Airmen to plan, prepare, and react to the unknown, and to find innovative solutions to problems within a highly technological and dynamic battlespace. DE programs cultivate critical thinking skills, develop habits of mind, and modes of analysis. DE prepares Airmen for increasing levels of responsibility and to assume leadership positions throughout the continuum of their Air Force career. DE instills in Airmen the skills and attributes they need to meet future challenges and operate in an increasingly complex environment with dispersed decision-making. DE Programs are divided into three main categories: 1) Professional Military Education, 2) Graduate Education; 3) Professional Continuing Education. Within each of these categories there is a wide array of opportunities.

Professional Military Education (PME) - Has three stages that deliver the right education, at the right time, to the right Airmen. We call this process "The continuum of learning" which permeates the entirety of an Airman's Air Force career. The stages in this Continuum of Learning are: Primary Developmental Education (PDE). Intermediate Developmental Education (IDE), and Senior Developmental Education (SDE).

Primary Developmental Education (PDE) - PDE is accomplished through Squadron Officer School (SOS). SOS, the Air Force's center for company grade officer professional development, produces leaders of integrity who are ready, willing, and prepared to overcome the challenges of today's complex security environments. SOS fulfills this role by educating and mentoring its students during the most crucial period of their development toward becoming future airpower leaders. For the Enlisted Corps, PDE is accomplished through Airman Leadership School (ALS). ALS prepares Airmen to be professional, warfighting Airmen who can supervise and lead Air Force work teams and manage units in the employment of air, space, and cyberspace power.

Intermediate Developmental Education (IDE) - IDE is accomplished through Air Command Staff College, as well as Joint/Sister Service/Intergovernmental schools. IDE prepares junior field grade officers for positions of higher responsibility within the military. The focus of IDE is on preparing students to develop, employ, and command airpower in joint, multinational, and interagency operations. Because we operate in a joint capability environment, we also send Airmen to Sister Service; Joint, Intergovernmental and International developmental opportunities. As a result, students better understand how to integrate campaigns and theater strategies. Participation in International PME opportunities allow Airmen to leverage our capacity for building partnerships, and better understand US interests abroad. For the Enlisted Corps, this stage is accomplished through Non-Commissioned Officers Academy (NCOA), which prepares Airmen at the NCO ranks (SSgt-TSgt) for increased levels of supervisory, leadership, and managerial responsibilities. These Airmen lead the enlisted force in the employment of air, space, and cyberspace power. NCOs may also attend equivalent Sister Service or International schools.

Senior Developmental Education (SDE) - SDE enhances students' ability to analyze national security problems and issues and to develop appropriate national security strategies in response. The curriculum addresses the fundamentals of thinking strategically, elements and instruments of national power, the theory and practice of war, the domestic and international context of national security strategy. SDE prepares senior field grade officers, DoD and interagency civilians to lead at the strategic level in a joint, interagency, and multinational environment. Graduates are versed in the cross-domain integration of joint, air, space and cyberspace power. Air War College is the senior Air Force professional military school. Because there is a Joint and strategic focus at the SDE level, we maintain several opportunities to attend SDE Sister Service, Joint, Intergovernmental, and International PME schools. For the Enlisted Corps, SDE is accomplished through the Chief Leadership Course (CLC) and Senior Non-Commissioned Officers Academy (SNCOA) and prepares Airmen at the SNCO ranks (MSgt-SMSgt) for increased levels of supervisory, leadership, and managerial responsibilities. These Airmen lead the enlisted force in the employment of air, space, and cyberspace power.

Graduate Education - Graduate Education programs are designed to manage limited resources and support National, Military, and Air Force strategic objectives in a rapidly changing, and increasingly complex technological environment. Graduate education requirements are identified as specific positions for which an Advanced Academic Degree (AAD) is necessary to accomplish the job. AAD coded positions are manpower authorizations which prescribe a graduate level degree in a specific academic discipline. A position validated as requiring an AAD means the incumbent cannot optimally perform the job without the advanced academic degree. If the Air Force cannot fill such mission critical positions with the current officer inventory, then a limited number of officers will receive graduate education. The Air Force Institute of Technology (AFIT) is the Air Force's Graduate School of Engineering Management. For specializations not available at AFIT, officers may be sent to pursue a graduate degree at Civilian Institutions (CI) at a myriad of universities and colleges. AFIT's CI program places students in more than 400 institutions of higher learning.

Professional Continuing Education (PCE) - The PCE program provides focused short course instruction (less than 20 weeks) in a broad range of essential educational programs to meet specific skills and functional competencies required in designated career fields. For example, PCE educates warfighting Airmen on contingency planning, joint air operations, intelligence, public affairs, and information operations. Developmental Education Support / Infrastructure - Air University (AU), located at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, provides full spectrum education, research, and outreach at every level through professional military education, professional continuing education. The Air Force Institute of Technology (AFIT) is the Air Force's graduate school of engineering and management, as well as its institution for technical professional continuing education. AFIT is comprised of four resident schools: the Graduate School of Engineering and Management, the School of Systems and Logistics, Civil Engineering, and the School of Strategic Force Studies.

II. Force Structure Summary:

The Air Force has three Officer PME schools located at Air University (AU) at Maxwell Air Force Base (AFB), Alabama. Squadron Officer School provides PME for junior officers and civilian equivalents; Air Command Staff College and Air War College provide PME for intermediate and senior level officers and civilian equivalents. For the Enlisted corps, the Air Force has 69 Airman Leadership Schools throughout the world, seven CONUS and three overseas NCO Academies, one Chief Leadership Course, and one Senior NCO Academy which is located at Maxwell AFB, Alabama. AU is comprised of several functional area centers. Curtis E. LeMay Center for Doctrine Development and Education develops, examines and teaches, through war games, the concepts of airpower doctrine and strategy. Ira C. Eaker Center for Professional Development supports the Air Force mission by providing world-class, multidiscipline PCE to Air Force and other Department of Defense personnel, as well as international students. The Air Force Institute of Technology, or AFIT, is the Air Force's graduate school of engineering and management and PCE. The Muir S. Fairchild Research Information Center (MSFRIC) is the premier research facility in the Department of Defense. The library holds more than 2.6 million items, subscribes to 63 research databases, and produces the Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Funds Enterprise-wide efforts to provide comprehensive education, training, support services, empowering Airmen and Guardians to develop essential competencies. It establishes a coherent delivery system and modernizes training to ensure capabilities align with modern life cycle content. This enables the execution of mission-type orders to outpace our adversaries. General education and training support programs offer core learning services such as student and faculty management, course development and delivery, and the use of reporting, testing, and collaborative tools. These programs also focus on data transformation and automated training processes, including scheduling, tracking, certifications, and resource optimization. The training development and requirements capability delivers modernized training designed to equip Airmen and Guardians with experiential learning in foundational and occupational competencies. Using advanced analytics, it transforms technical training to provide ready, relevant, and immersive experiences. This is achieved through a learning ecosystem that leverages artificial intelligence including augmented reality, virtual reality, mixed reality, extended reality (AR/VR/MR/XR), and other machine learning to tailor training.

Supports essential training functions encompassing Management Headquarters Training, Advanced Distance Learning, and Training and Support to units. Headquarters Air Education and Training Command provides positive command, control, and guidance to the Air Force Training Establishment. Field Training Detachments (FTDs) conduct on-site training at active, guard and reserve installations on weapon systems identified to specific commands.

II. Force Structure Summary

Headquarters Air Education and Training Command (AETC) at Randolph AFB provides oversight and management of multiple enterprise level learning management and training systems, with internal key analysis services provided by AETC/A9 and AETC's Studies and Analysis Squadron (SAS). The Air Force has 45 Field Training Detachments, including various worldwide locations. The goal of all is to support modern learning methodologies and ensure that Airmen have seamless access to educational resources anytime and anywhere, thus fostering a more effective and immersive training environment.

1) Civilian Pay - Average Workyear Cost Adjustment..... $184

Increase for Civilian Personnel compensation adjusts average workyear costs. Each year, the Air Force uses detailed execution and cost factor analysis to realign and update civilian compensation costs and manpower for the purpose of accurately forecasting budget estimates for the civilian workforce. The Subactivity Group average cost adjustment is a result of these changes as well as updated pay raise, awards, and benefit assumptions.

OP32:

101 Executive General Schedule

Notes:

*Air Force Career Development Academy: Career Development Courses (CDC)

FY 2024: Reflects actual enrollment.

FY 2025: Request reflects a 3% plus-up based on the FY 2023 actual enrollments plus additional career field courses and their annual throughput.

FY 2026: Request reflects a 20% plus-up based on the FY 2023 actuals enrollments, FY 2024 estimated enrollments, and projected additional courses.

AFCDA plus-up based on returning CDCs & increased DoD enrollment demand for certifications and specialty courses.

Field Training Detachments (FTD)

FY 2024 - 2025: Request raised due to average of last three fiscal years and addition of requirements through several detachments.

FY 2026: Request reflects a 10% increase based on FY 2024 actual enrollments and the activation of 1 new Detachment at Creech AFB. Additionally, the Air Force push to more competency-based training is expected to drive some changes from initial skills courses at Sheppard AFB moving to courses as FTDs.

FY 2024: MyLearning estimated numbers are based on actual engagement with the application and associated courses as recorded in the Moodle database throughout FY 2024.

FY 2025: MyLearning estimated numbers for FY 2025 are based on (1) projected growth of current user base, (2) average monthly engagement with existing training content (recorded in Moodle database), and any potential future course changes for FY 2025.

FY 2026: MyLearning estimated numbers for FY 2026 are based on current trend data (recorded in Moodle), for engagement of training content, changes in overall user population and any potential course changes for out-year (FY 2025, FY 2026, & FY 2027). Expected user enrollment can subsequently fluctuate slightly, based on Air Force end strength for FY 2026.

I. Description of Operations Financed

Recruiting operations provide the required quantity and quality of skills to both prior and non-prior service officer and enlisted personnel. Additionally, it funds recruiting and retention of the highest quality force possible to fulfill Air Force mission requirements. Advertising and event marketing campaigns support both current and long-range accession objectives by building and maintaining public support for the Air Force by advocating the role it plays in national defense and by generating leads for the recruiting force. Advertising supports the following programs: Enlisted Accessions, U.S. Air Force Academy, Reserve Officer Training Corps, Officer Training, Physician, Nurse, Dentist, Bioenvironmental Sciences Corps, Attorneys, Chaplains, and Specialized Recruiting needs (hard-to-fill skills). Advertising and event marketing campaigns are based on Air Force recruiting needs, available funding, and the most effective media mix that supports 11 Active Duty recruiting programs. The pursuit of additional end strength, as well as the pursuit of low density/high demand recruits eligible to become special warfare airmen drives funding requirements in this program.

II. Force Structure Summary

There are three recruiting regions (North East, South West, and Mid-North West) and 28 recruiting squadrons. The North East region includes Michigan to northern South Carolina and Europe regions. The South West region includes Kansas, Missouri, most of Texas, the Caribbean, and Puerto Rico. The Mid-North West region includes the west coast and Pacific regions.

I. Description of Operations Financed

The Examining Activities Program supports development, analysis, and validation of tests and selection processes to optimize selection and classification of accessions to provide the best match of skills and aptitudes to support Total Force mission capability to include emerging requirements and leveraging new analysis and assessment techniques and technology that support best practices and the legal requirements for testing and Department of Defense requirements for joint-service testing. This is accomplished by predicting training and job success based on current qualifications, supporting the "Right Person" goal of the Air Force Personnel Mission, developing and validating assessment tools, and conducting analysis to establish policy standards. The program encompasses enlisted and officer testing, including the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB), the Strength Aptitude Test (SAT), the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test (AFOQT), and the Test of Basic Aviation Skills (TBAS) used for pilot selection. This program also funds military manning for Military Entrance Processing Stations (MEPS), where all services applicants are processed before basic training.

II. Force Structure Summary

There are 65 MEPS locations throughout the continental United States.

I. Description of Operations Financed

The Voluntary Education Program is a recruiting, retention, and readiness tool which provides active duty personnel opportunities for professional and personal development through military tuition assistance for industry recognized credentials and post-secondary education programs.

Specific off-duty programs include the Military Tuition Assistance program and AF Credentialing On-Line Opportunities (AFCOOL) programs, as well as civilian pay, supplies, contracts, training, and infrastructure. The Air Force is directed by Title 10, Sections 2006a and 2007 to provide military tuition assistance.

II. Force Structure Summary

Funding supports Education and Training Sections throughout the Department of the Air Force.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Air Force civilian employees are vital to mission accomplishment. They provide program continuity, stability, and a historical perspective to counterbalance the military workforce. Dedicated education and training opportunities are essential to effectively fulfill this critical role and will become crucial in reoptimization efforts. This is the Air Force's only budget line for enterprise-wide training for civilians. The Civilian Education and Training Program is comprised of two primary parts. The first is the central salary account (CSA), which contains centrally-managed salary dollars for employees engaged in developmental opportunities including schools and career broadening. These programs enable civilians to gain practical experience in areas outside their primary field of expertise, produce a far greater strategic perspective, and prepare them for future leadership positions. Air Force internship programs provide students in qualifying educational institutions with paid opportunities to work in Air Force organizations while completing their education. The Recent Graduates and Palace Acquire Programs are intended to promote possible careers as Air Force civil servants to individuals who graduated from qualifying institutions with an educational or technical degree or certificate. These programs allow us to competitively recruit top performing college graduates and ensure a vital influx of intelligent, diverse, and creative talent who will become the Air Force's next generation of civilian leaders. It also funds a student loan repayment program and recruitment incentives for mission critical Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) and Cyber talent. Additionally, it provides a myriad of technical, professional, and specialized skill training opportunities as well as supervisory and management development programs. This portion of the Education and Training account also supports force development programs that provide a pool of qualified and experienced civilian employees to fill mid-level through Senior Executive Service (SES) positions. These programs include funding for recruiting/marketing of employment opportunities for individuals majoring in STEM disciplines. In some cases, civilian STEM, Cyber, and Acquisition workforce are the sole providers of service to the Department of Defense and are required to have specific training and development per Title VIII Section 801 §1746a.2 and Section 801 §1746a.3.

II. Force Structure Summary:

This Subactivity group resources Congressionally-mandated and enterprise-wide, education and training opportunities as well as development for approximately 180,000 Air Force civilian employees. This includes Department of Air Force civilians whose salaries are funded from other appropriations.

Funds also support operational training for health or safety, development of core competencies and long-term force renewal requirements. These training events pertain to the entire Department of Air Force civilian workforce to include those in the Central Salary Account (CSA).

 Workyears are based on annual funding and are specific to the Central Salary Account only.

 The Intern Recruitment Bonus Program reflects the numbers of recruitment/retention bonus recipients (not dollars). Includes placement of individuals (across all civilian career fields) in hard to fill locations. Incentives are paid out over a period of three years and varies based on the needs of the department.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps (JROTC) units are located in high schools throughout the nation and selected Department of Defense Dependent Schools in Europe and Guam. JROTC is a Title 10 U.S. Code mandated citizenship training program that is designed to educate and train high school cadets in citizenship, promote community services, and instill personal responsibility, character, and self-discipline. The program achieves this through classroom education in air and space fundamentals and hands-on learning opportunities. Funding primarily pays for JROTC instructor pay.

II. Force Structure Summary:

This Subactivity Group's force structure supports JROTC units in the continental United States in addition to JROTC units overseas. There are approximately 85,000 high school cadets in the program across more than 800 locations.

USAF JROTC Enrollment (# of cadets)	98,000	91,280	93,725
of Units	853	815	815
USSF JROTC Enrollment (# of cadets)	1,100	1,100	1,100
of Units	10	10	10

Notes:

1) Reduced Enrollment reflects impact of broken program funding. Impact on FY 2025 unknown; FY 2026 enrollment assumes slow recovery and reduced number of units due to funding disconnects.

2) FY 2024 units include 10 units of the 853 units converted to Space Force Junior ROTC (SFJROTC) units.

3) FY 2025 USSF estimate includes 10 total SFJROTC units of the 17 limit established by SAF/MR.

4) Updated FY 2025 USSF estimate includes only 10 total SFJROTC units due to resource constraints.

5) Uniform costs have increased by 50% since COVID-19; uniform allotment will increase to $120 in FY 2026 to $150 in FY 2027.

6) Meals and uniform upkeep (alterations and dry cleaning) costs have also significantly increased; currently $45 for FY 2025, will increase to $70 in FY 2026 & $75 in FY 2027.

7) Cadet Leadership Camps (CLC) FY 2026 $1.5M & FY 2027 $1.75M.

8) October 2024 PR (Academic Year 2024 - 2025) show an increase of 6,000 cadet population from October 2023. Expectation the February 2025 PSR will show an additional increase between 5,000 - 10,000 cadets.

9) In FY 2025, the average cadets per unit is 112. In FY 2026, projecting 115 cadet per unit. Space Force units will remain at 110 cadets per unit.

*The FY 2026 are estimated numbers with the understanding the program experiences a funding reduction in FY 2026.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Administration and Servicewide Activities
Activity Group: Logistics Operations
Detail by Subactivity Group: Logistics Operations

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Logistics Operations funds readiness requirements for Air Force Materiel Command's (AFMC) five centers (Air Force Life Cycle Management Center, Air Force Sustainment Center, Air Force Test Center, Air Force Research Laboratory, and Air Force Nuclear Weapons Center), headquarters, Air Force acquisition program executive offices, and several field operating agencies. Logistics Operations contains six major programs: Administrative Support, Logistics Information Technology, Logistics Maintenance and Equipment, Logistics Operations, Nuclear Sustainment, and Transport Services.

Administrative Support primarily includes salaries of civilian personnel, contractor support, supplies/equipment, and travel to support management headquarters for AFMC and other offices supporting logistics operations. Additionally, this program provides support for policy, planning, programming, budgeting, resource management and distribution, personnel matters, quality of life, flight operations, and operational support to airspace management.

Logistics Information Technology (Log IT) sustains operation and maintenance for core Air Force Log IT systems at the depot and retail level. The activity also funds the daily operations and initiatives for business process reengineering.

Logistics Maintenance and Equipment funds the Air Force calibration portfolio as well as life support equipment to include female specific equipment. Air Force calibration program sustains operation and maintenance of the Air Force Primary Standards Laboratory and the development and sustainment of calibration technical orders in support of Precision Measurement Equipment Laboratories (PMEL) Air Force-wide; including contracted labs which ensure weapon system accuracy and reliability. PMEL activities are critical to ensuring equipment is in proper working condition within manufacturer specification enabling safe operations and safety of flight for weapon systems.

Logistics Operations funds civilian personnel and the associated program operating costs of travel, transportation, inventory control, and material management supporting various logistics programs. These programs include: Repair Network Integration, Engine Water Wash (i.e., aircraft engine internal component cleaning to improve operating efficiency), Air Force Petroleum Office (i.e., Air Force Service Control Point for aviation fuels and lubricants), and Tri-Service Joint Oil Analysis Program (i.e., detects bearing and gearbox jet engine failures). Additionally, Logistics Operations funds governance process for planning, management, and reporting of process improvement and business transformation across AF communities.

Nuclear Sustainment funds nuclear surety and certification of legacy Air Force nuclear delivery platforms, as well as maintenance and sustainment of testers for nuclear weapons support. Additionally, this program funds management of the Air Force nuclear stockpile and oversight of associated joint Department of Defense and Department of Energy projects.

Transport Services consists of three servicewide transportation programs:

Detail by Subactivity Group: Logistics Operations

1) Second Destination Transportation (SDT), supplies the Air Force with worldwide transportation services which is made up of two primary elements: A) SDT centrally managed account provides for both Continental United States and Outside CONUS (OCONUS) movement of non-defense working capital fund Air Force materiel, such as, vehicles, munitions, aircraft engines, helicopters, and communications equipment between supply and repair facilities or base-to-base as directed by the item manager. B) Port Readiness and Traffic Management provides the information technology and infrastructure at Surface Deployment and Distribution Command designated seaports for the loading and unloading of ocean-going vessels transporting bulk cargo destined to and from, and between overseas locations. SDT includes over-ocean air (commercial and Air Mobility Command organic) and sealift (commercial and Surface Deployment and Distribution Command organic) to OCONUS warfighting commands. SDT funds overseas movement of subsistence items (supplies and field rations to dining facilities) for OCONUS units.

2) Defense Courier Service (DCS), established under United States Transportation Command (USTRANSCOM), is the single Department of Defense (DoD) agency responsible for secure and rapid worldwide distribution of highly classified, time-sensitive national security material and is an integral part of national command authority's command, control and communications systems. DCS is responsible for transporting primarily top secret, sensitive compartmented information, cryptographic keying material and sensitive material. USTRANSCOM establishes and maintains a global courier network that services over five thousand customers, including DoD components, federal agencies, North Atlantic Treaty Organization, United States allies, and government contractors. USTRANSCOM annually receives, processes and delivers nearly two million pounds of materiel. Couriers utilize military and commercial airlift, to include overnight express carriers and small charter aircraft to facilitate secure and expeditious distribution of material. The Air Force reimburses USTRANSCOM for DCS transactions carried out on our behalf.

3) Enterprise Mail supplies worldwide mail transportation services for Air Force personnel and activities. Enterprise Mail funds mail processed by the United States Postal Service, Air Mobility Command, and Surface Deployment and Distribution Command. U.S. Code Title 39 is the federal guideline which drives the Military Postal Service (MPS) and designates the MPS as an extension of the United States Post Office overseas. Enterprise Mail funds both CONUS and OCONUS mail-related operations.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Logistics Operations: Air Force Materiel Command's five centers (Air Force Life Cycle Management Center, Air Force Sustainment Center, Air Force Test Center, Air Force Research Laboratory, and Air Force Nuclear Weapons Center) provide cradle-to-grave acquisition and logistics support throughout the Air Force.

Defense Courier Service (DCS): USTRANSCOM exercises operational command authority for DCS and the Air Force serves as the executive agency. DCS is composed of the headquarters staff at Scott Air Force Base, Illinois and 18 Defense Courier Stations located in six nations.

1) Civilian Pay - Average Workyear Cost Adjustment..... $1,897

Increase in Civilian Personnel compensation adjusts average workyear costs. Each year, the Air Force uses detailed execution and cost factor analysis to realign and update civilian compensation costs and manpower for the purpose of accurately forecasting budget estimates for the civilian workforce. The Subactivity Group average cost adjustment is a result of these changes as well as updated pay raise, awards, and benefit assumptions.

OP32:

101 Executive General Schedule

(FY 2025 Base: $271,002; FTE Base: 1,753)

2) Civilian Pay - Regional Based Cluster Pre-Positioning..... $1,896

Increase half-year funding and manpower to (24 FTEs) to support the storage, sustainment, and enabling functions necessary to preserve the initial Agile Combat Employment posture investment of three clusters. Manpower will provide agile and expedited deployment by establishing intermediate staging locales to reduce delivery timelines and demand on inter-theater transportation during initial dispersed operations.

OP32:

101 Executive General Schedule

(FY 2025 Base: $271,002; FTE Base: 1,753; 24 FTE)

3) Logistics Information Technology - Transform Undergraduate Pilot Training $1,000

Increase in funds to execute a complete transformation of undergraduate pilot training (UPT). The revision includes expanded Initial Flight Training (IFT) / Fighter Bomber Fundamentals curriculum. Funding will transform IFT into Initial Pilot Training (IPT) by increasing the program hours resulting in graduates earning a Private Pilot Certificate, Instructor rating, and qualification on multiple engines. These training revisions will further cement the path to meeting the U.S. Air Force goal of producing 1,500 pilots annually.

4) Nuclear Sustainment - NC3 Modernization and Integration $6,022

Increase supports NC3 weapon system by integrating and managing a diverse set of nuclear deterrent operational systems and equipment while also providing cyber/Information Technology (IT) connection for personnel. The NC3 weapon system is critical to national nuclear C3 capabilities, Weapon System and Supply Chain Risk Management, Supply Chain Supportability, System Health Monitoring, and IT Networks.

OP32:
989 Other Services

(FY 2025 Base: $21,415)

5) Transport Services - Air Force Post Office Mail..... $1,260

Increase in funds for Air Force Post Office Mail requirements due to projected increase in mail volume and transportation costs. Enterprise Mail supplies worldwide mail transportation services for Department of the Air Force personnel and activities. Requirements fluctuate as a result of changing mission sets and global presence.

OP32:
917 Postal Services (U.S.P.S.)

(FY 2025 Base: $117,584)

6) Transport Services - Second Destination Transportation $50,599

Increase funds Second Destination Transportation (SDT) requirements, enabling global movement of munitions, engines, War Reserve Materiel, and classified assets. SDT supports over 26,000 annual shipments across 61 Air Force programs, sustaining operational plan execution and depot maintenance timelines. This increase begins to address a growing backlog of deferred transportation missions critical to theater access and posture due to persistent underfunding. This increase also restores a one-time $50,000 thousand execution year realignment in FY 2025 to fund an emerging must-pay bill. Lastly, the FY 2026 budget internally realigns a portion of SDT funding coded to support Overseas Operations Costs (OOC). The FY 2026 budget includes the internal realignment of funding from OOC to baseline program and the net effect is reflected here:

Baseline Program $100,602 (FY 2025 Base: $117,584)

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Technical support activities fund Acquisition and Command Support for Headquarters Air Force; the Air Force Life Cycle Management Center (AFLCMC); and the Air Force Operational Test and Evaluation Center (AFOTEC). Acquisition and Command Support provides manpower authorizations and technical/administrative support for the mission, staff functions and support activities of Headquarters Air Force; AFLCMC and the AFOTEC. Funds provide program office operations for acquiring, managing, and sustaining Air Force financial, logistics, civil engineering, personnel, medical, contracting and information technology systems. In FY 2023, funding for acquisition workforce development transferred to Subactivity Group 42W.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Air Force Life Cycle Management Center (AFLCMC) designs, develops, integrates, and acquires Air Force systems, subsystems and rated equipment. The AFLCMC includes the following directorates: Acquisition Excellence, Agile Combat Support, Air Force Security Assistance and Cooperation, Armament, Bombers, Business and Enterprise Systems, Communications, Command, Control and Intelligence Networks, Digital, Fighters and Advanced Aircraft, Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance and Special Operations Forces, Mobility and Training Aircraft, Presidential and Executive Airlift, Program Execution, Propulsion, and Rapid Sustainment. Air Force Operational Test and Evaluation Center (AFOTEC) is the independent agency responsible for managing the Air Force Operational Test and Evaluation (OT&E) program. It is the principal agency providing timely Air Force OT&E information to the Chief of Staff of the Air Force, the Secretary of the Air Force and in turn, the Office of the Secretary of Defense and Congress. AFOTEC develops OT&E policies and procedures to support Air Force and joint acquisition processes. The center conducts initial, qualification and follow-on OT&E on all programs directed by Headquarters US Air Force. AFOTEC staff support consists of normal operating cost including travel, communications, computer hardware and software, technical contract support, supplies and equipment for the headquarters, five detachments and 13 operating locations dispersed across the United States.

1) Acquisition and Command Support	$4,803
Increase reflects minor adjustment to overall mission support activities. This includes increases to Air Force Uniform Office (AFUO) Program, Air Force Enterprise Services (AFES), and other programs. The AFUO increase funds the uniform development lifecycle and sustainment of fielded uniform ensembles, specifically impacting high visibility efforts including U.S. Space Force Service Dress/Mess Dress, physical training gear, and Maternity Flight Suit. The AFES increase funds secure, integrative, and cost-effective IT software and services, which support AFES in developing and executing strategic sourcing initiatives, providing standardized lifecycle support.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Administration and Servicewide Activities
Activity Group: Servicewide Activities
Detail by Subactivity Group: Administration

I. Description of Operations Financed:

The Administration Subactivity Group contains both Enterprise-Wide programs along with funding for Office of the Secretary of the Air Force and Air Staff operations. Enterprise-Wide programs include the Substance Abuse Control Program, Mortuary Affairs, Civilian Compensation, the consolidated Air Force Personnel Center, Air Force Warrior and Survivor Care, Defense Casualty Information Process, USA Jobs and all Air Force Personnel and Manpower systems.

Personnel Administration funds the Military and Civilian Personnel operations of the Air Force enterprise Human Resources domain. This support includes all aspects of the military human relations life cycle, including Personnel Readiness, and providing a 24/7 reach back for home-based and deployed personnel. The Civilian Compensation program supports all civilian employees Air Force-wide by funding Civilian Career Permanent Change of Station relocations and reimbursements to the Department of Labor for both unemployment and disability compensation. Additionally, programs within this Subactivity Group support the Air Force Integrated Personnel Management effort and the consolidated (civilian and military) Air Force Personnel Center. The Integrated Personnel Management transformation effort will link specific Air Force capabilities and systems (promotions, assignments, records management, and training) to the Air Force Integrated Personnel and Pay System. This initiative blends the Regular, Reserve and Guard components' military personnel policies and business processes into a single set of guidance for all three military components. Additionally, this effort improves integration for all Air Force Military and Civilian Personnel and Manpower computer data systems.

Management Headquarters program includes personnel and operational funding in direct support of the Air Staff and Secretariat. Funding includes daily operations, Presidential Air and Executive Airlift support for the Air Force Top 4, which includes: Secretary of the Air Force, Undersecretary of the Air Force, Air Force Chief of Staff, and Air Force Vice Chief of Staff. Program also includes personnel and operational support for the Scientific Advisory Board, responsible for independent reviews of the Air Force Science and Technology program as well as conducting scientific studies specifically directed by the Secretary of the Air Force. Management Headquarters program also funds requirements for the Secretary of Defense Financial Management Certification program. The Financial Management Certification program was implemented by the Secretary of Defense as a result of authority given by the National Defense Authorization Act for fiscal year 2012, Public Law 112-81 to establish professional certification and credentialing standard across the Department of Defense.

Other personnel support includes Air Force Mortuary Affairs and the Substance Abuse program which ensures mission readiness and fitness of the force through comprehensive substance abuse awareness education, prevention programs, early intervention of substance abuse problems, assessment, and counseling of substance abuse. The Air Force Warrior and Survivor Care program provides recovery, rehabilitation and reintegration care of recovering warriors and their families to fulfill requirements of Public Law 110-181 and subsequent legislation.

II. Force Structure Summary:

The Air Force Personnel Center provides centralized staffing support to Air Force Active Duty installations and Official Personnel File maintenance for all uniformed Air Force members in all components in accordance with the National Archives and Records Administration policy. The Personnel Center generates all source documents affecting the full civilian human relations life cycle which are maintained in the sole authoritative source for civilian personnel records. Air Force personnel receive military and civilian benefits and entitlements services for health, life, and Thrift Savings Plan, as well as retirement and survivorship services from the Center. Funds support the Total Force Service Center operations at San Antonio, Texas and Denver, Colorado, as well as the Information Technology (IT) infrastructure sustainment (consistent with Federal Data Center Consolidation intent) and requisite Disaster Recovery capabilities. The Personnel and Manpower IT systems are the Air Force's single, authoritative source for military personnel and manpower data. The center provides operational support to active duty military and civilian personnel flights worldwide.

Detail by Subactivity Group: Administration

1) Civilian Pay - Full-Time Equivalents and Average Workyear Cost Adjustment..... $7,194
 Increase funding and manpower (220 FTEs) in Civilian Personnel compensation adjusts average workyear costs. Each year Air Force uses detailed execution and cost factor analysis to update civilian compensation costs for the purpose of accurately forecasting budget estimates for the civilian workforce. The Subactivity Group average cost adjustment is a result of these cost changes as well as updated pay raise, awards, and benefit assumptions.

OP32:
 101 Executive General Schedule

(FY 2025 Base: $717,553; FTE Base: 3,470; 220 FTE)

2) Civilian Pay - Integrated Capabilities Office..... $1,659
 Increase full-year funding and manpower (8 FTEs) to establish the Integrated Capabilities Support Office. The manpower will directly support the Air Force senior leadership team as integrated modernization plans are developed as a direct response to the pacing threats intent on defeating U.S. power projection capabilities. This supports the Department of the Air Force's Key decisions to reoptimize into an enterprise prepared for high-end conflicts and long-term strategic competition.

OP32:
 101 Executive General Schedule

(FY 2025 Base: $717,553; FTE Base: 3,470; 8 FTE)

3) Personnel and Financial Systems - Human Capital Management $5,405
 Increase supports the necessary modernization of the U.S. Air Force's Human Capital Management Information Technology (IT) Systems portfolio. Talent Management initiatives center on a two-pronged approach: first, to aggressively define future competencies and skills needed for 2030 and beyond, and second, to modernize talent management processes and systems. The U.S. Air Force is in the middle of a multi-year transformation of its talent management architecture, replacing 111 outdated, legacy, and stand-alone IT systems with six modern platforms. These platforms take advantage of industry best practices by expanding self-service actions, enabling single sign-on access, increasing digital security, aiding in audit compliance and granting unprecedented access to talent management data.

4) Service-Wide Administration - Civilian Permanent Change of Station $6,076
 Increase supports Civilian Permanent Change of Station (PCS) efforts to place government civilian personnel in alignment with U.S. Air Force priorities. Civilian PCS funding expands the Air Force's civilian hiring pool, by incentivizing opportunities for candidates outside the local area - it facilitates the hiring of difficult-to-fill positions in remote installations, facilitating military readiness.

OP32:
 771 Commercial Transportation

(FY 2025 Base: $192,668)

9. Program Decreases $-56,520

a) One-Time FY 2025 Costs $-25,440

1) Personnel and Financial Systems - Non-Appropriated Fund Employees $-25,440
 Decrease in funding following a period of increased transitional funding where the Air Force provided appropriated fund support to address the impacts of Executive Order E.O. 14003, Protecting the Federal Workforce. During this multi-year transition period, the U.S. Air Force provided ongoing support for the minimum wage increase to $15 per hour for federal civilians paid with non-appropriated funds (NAF). The final year for this appropriated funds support was FY 2025, and NAF instrumentalities were required to adjust their business models (rates) to adapt to the higher cost structure. This decrease reflects the end of that programmed support.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Air Force Servicewide Communications programs provide reliable and secure communications to provide mission assurance and support for networks, radio, telephone, and infrastructure systems at Air Force installations worldwide. The High Frequency (HF) radio programs provide communications to aircraft and ground stations around the world supporting command and control, special purpose, and contingency communications. The Air Force will continue to provide cyberspace and communications services for military and business operations while also addressing security and performance solutions. These capabilities are worldwide mobile for any environment and provide temporary data and communications activities (including reconstitution) as necessary, for Joint and coalition operations.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Servicewide Communications provide delivery of essential voice, network and radio services to Air Force personnel stationed at all major active Air Force installations worldwide. The radio portion of this program sustains global high-frequency radio broadcast stations around the world.

a) Annualization of New FY 2025 Program	$0
b) One-Time FY 2026 Costs	$0
c) Program Growth in FY 2026	$11,070
1) Enterprise Communications Connections - High Frequency Radio Program	$4,801
Increase in funding supports the Airborne High Frequency Radio Modernization program. Development of the AN/ARC-260 is completing, which supports capabilities for various systems. Funding also supports upgrades to Senior Leader communications.
OP32:
922 Equipment Maintenance By Contract
(FY 2025 Base: $6,536)
2) Enterprise Communications Connections - Mystic Star	$5,836
Increase in funding supports Joint Information Operations Range (JIOR), Public Key Infrastructure (PKI), and Mystic Star. JIOR is the joint training cyber enterprise, capable of providing cyber training events across all classification levels. PKI reduces cyber vulnerabilities by using multi-factor authentication, thereby defending the personal information of personnel. Mystic Star provides continuity of government command and control and force direction of national security defense forces.

Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Administration and Servicewide Activities

Detail by Subactivity Group: Environmental Restoration

I. Description of Operations Financed:

The Air Force Environmental Restoration Program, often referred to as Air Force ERP, is the Air Force's specific implementation of the broader Department of Defense's Defense Environmental Restoration Program (DERP). It addresses environmental contamination at active and closed Air Force installations stemming from past activities. While adhering to the overall DERP framework and objectives, the Air Force ERP has its own specific nuances and priorities related to its unique operational history and types of contamination typically encountered.

Similar to the overall DERP, the Air Force ERP focuses on investigating, remediating, and monitoring contamination. However, it often deals with contamination specific to Air Force operations, such as: Fuels (e.g., jet fuel, gasoline), Firefighting chemicals (e.g., Aqueous Film Forming Foam (AFFF) containing PFAS), Metals (e.g., from aircraft maintenance and industrial processes), Solvents (e.g., used in degreasing and other operations), and Munitions and explosives of concern (MEC).

The Air Force Civil Engineer Center (AFCEC) provides centralized management and oversight for the Air Force ERP. They ensure compliance with federal, state, and local environmental laws and regulations, as well as Air Force-specific policies. Each Air Force installation has its own environmental restoration program tailored to its specific needs and contamination issues. These programs are managed by installation environmental personnel, who work closely with AFCEC and other stakeholders.

The Air Force ERP emphasizes the development and application of innovative technologies for site characterization and remediation. This includes researching and implementing more efficient and cost-effective cleanup methods. Similar to the overall DERP, the Air Force ERP emphasizes community involvement and transparency. They work with local communities and regulatory agencies to address concerns and ensure effective communication throughout the cleanup process.

The Air Force ERP also plays a crucial role in cleaning up former Air Force installations closed under the Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) program. This allows for the properties to be safely reused and redeveloped. Increasingly, the Air Force ERP is incorporating sustainability principles into its cleanup efforts. This includes minimizing waste, reducing energy consumption, and promoting the use of green remediation technologies.

In summary, the Air Force ERP is a critical program for addressing the legacy of environmental contamination at Air Force installations. It operates within the broader DERP framework but has specific focuses and priorities related to the Air Force's unique mission and operational history. The program strives to protect human health and the environment while also supporting the Air Force's current and future operational needs.

Funding in this Subactivity Group is reflective of prior year Actual expenditures. There are no programmed budgets for Environmental Restoration.

Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Administration and Servicewide Activities
Activity Group: Servicewide Activities
Detail by Subactivity Group: Other Servicewide Activities

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Other Servicewide Activities fund various programs that support Air Force units around the world. These include the Air Force portion of the Department of Defense (DoD) Counter-Drug Program, Public Affairs and Communications programs, Engineering, Installation, and Information Management Automation Program, Paperless Contracting, Sexual Assault Prevention Response, servicewide support including field operating agencies, the Operational Capability and Air Power Assessment Programs, as well as the Productivity Investment Program and GeoBase installation mapping and visualization program. Other Servicewide Activities also funds support costs to the DoD Executive Agency Personnel Recovery support through Joint Personnel Recovery Agency, Civil Air Patrol - United States Air Force, Chaplain Service Worldwide Support Program, and Arms Control. Arms Control encompasses all efforts directly associated with implementing arms treaties and agreements such as Conventional Forces Europe, Open Skies, Intermediate Nuclear Forces Treaty and Chemical Weapons Convention. Funding supports: on-site inspections; monitoring and compliance with arms control agreements, planning and preparation activities; and relocation, modification, retirement or destruction of equipment. This Subactivity Group also funds flying hours for the Open Skies aircraft. The counter-proliferation program studies, analyzes and implements support to the Air Force's Counter-Chemical, Biological, Radiological and Nuclear (C-CBRN) mission area. The functional areas contained in C-CBRN operations include weapons of mass destruction, chemical and biological agents and any dangerous technologies, events or situations. This Subactivity Group finances Department of Defense Inspector General financial statement audits which attest to the accuracy and reliability of Air Force financial information; the effectiveness of Air Force internal controls; Air Force compliance with laws and regulations; and Air Force compliance with federal accounting standards and federal financial systems; and standard procurement systems requirements.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Funding supports Headquarters Air Force, Major Commands, Direct Reporting Units, and Field Operating Agencies.

c) Program Growth in FY 2026	$40,976
1) Civilian Pay - Decision Advantage Manpower	$1,195
Increase full-year funding and manpower (7 FTEs) to support the Office of Chief Information Officer. Manpower functions include conducting market intelligence to identify sources for potential requirements for advisory and assistance services. These actions support the warfighter by obtaining services and resources to directly support architecture efforts across the Air Force for data-driven informed decisions. This supports the Department of the Air Force's key decisions to reoptimize into an enterprise prepared for high-end conflicts and long-term strategic competition.
OP32:
101 Executive General Schedule
(FY 2025 Base: $701,778; FTE Base: 4,841; 7 FTE)
2) Civilian Pay - Family Advocacy Program	$3,973
Increase half-year funding and manpower (58 FTEs) to support family advocacy program and provide additional domestic assault victim advocates. Manpower will augment support as program managers to active duty members and their beneficiaries in the areas of personnel deployment, unit, and mission readiness.
OP32:
101 Executive General Schedule
(FY 2025 Base: $701,778; FTE Base: 4,841; 58 FTE)
3) Service-wide Activities - Contracting-Information Technology	$1,264
Increase to Contracting-Information Technology (Con-IT). Con-IT is a modernized contract writing solution to consolidate legacy systems while meeting compliance and auditability requirements. Con-IT enables the Department of the Air Force to create automated and efficient contracts for the operational and weapon systems contracting communities.

4) Service-wide Activities - Financial Improvement and Audit Readiness $19,154
 Increase to Financial Improvement and Audit Readiness (FIAR) to further the U.S. Air Force's efforts in the DoD IG financial statement audit which attest to the accuracy and reliability of Air Force financial information, effectiveness of Air Force internal controls, compliance with laws and regulations, and compliance with federal accounting standards and federal financial systems. FIAR improves financial management operations and facilitates the financial statement audits.

OP32:
 932 Management and Professional Sup Svs

(FY 2025 Base: $387,906)

5) Service-wide Activities - Litigation Support $13,900
 Increase supports Executive Order 14184 "Reinstating Service Members Discharged Under the Military's COVID-19 Vaccination Mandate". This funds the litigation support and other associated costs for this effort.

OP32:
 959 Other Costs-Insurance Claims Indem

(FY 2025 Base: $92,052)

6) Sexual Assault Prevention and Response and Victim Support - "Let's Be Clear" $1,490
 Increase supports the implementation of effective and integrated prevention programs delivered to U.S. Air Force Academy cadets and other personnel. The chosen prevention initiatives are evidence-informed and the funding increases the ability to conduct annual assessments of all prevention programs.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

The Civil Air Patrol (CAP) is a federally chartered non-profit organization. Established and purposed under United States Code (USC) Title 36, the CAP is a federal grant recipient. As a grant recipient, the CAP uses federally provided resources via a cooperative agreement to provide public purpose missions and support mandated by law. As Executive Agent, the United States Air Force is required to provide fiscal oversight of funding via the cooperative agreement and maintain involvement in operational processes. The Secretary of the Air Force (SECAF) may provide additional funding or resources, in accordance with USC Title 10 Section 9441 - 9448, to employ the CAP to conduct missions on behalf of the SECAF. When executing any federal mission the CAP is an official civilian auxiliary of the Air Force. As a civilian auxiliary of the Air Force, the SECAF may use the services of CAP to fulfill any non-combat programs and missions of the Air Force or any other federal agency. The National Search and Rescue Plan tasks the Air Force with the responsibility for coordinating inland search and rescue operations in the United States and CAP is the primary Air Force resource to conduct these operations. The CAP also provides disaster relief support, drug interdiction operations, live organ transport, aerospace education, cadet programs, and Reserve Officer Training Corps orientation flights. This Subactivity Group includes funding for the operations of CAP Corporation and Headquarters Civil Air Patrol.

II. Force Structure Summary:

Funding supports compensation and benefits for key staff at regional, state, or territorial headquarters; readiness training; and some Air Force non-combat programs/missions conducted within the Civil Air Patrol's eight geographic regions. These regions include 52 wings spread across the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia. Civil Air Patrol also performs other missions on a fly-for-fee basis.

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Security Programs include the Air Force Office of Special Investigations (AFOSI), the Department of Defense Cyber Crime Center (DC3), and counterintelligence (CI) which support the Comprehensive National Cybersecurity Initiative (CNCI). AFOSI is a field operating agency, accountable to the Secretary of the Air Force, under the direction and guidance of the Inspector General of the Air Force. AFOSI is a combat-ready military organization providing the Air Force a wartime capability to conduct, in hostile and uncertain environments, counter-threat operations to find, fix, track and neutralize enemy threats. The organization is the Air Force's focal point for working with United States and foreign nation law enforcement and security services in order to provide timely and accurate threat information in all environments. It also performs as a federal law enforcement agency with responsibility of conducting criminal investigations (CI), and specialized investigative activities, protective service operations, critical information infrastructure protection (CIIP), and CI support to force protection, research and technology protection, and technical services. This program funds manpower authorizations, support equipment, necessary facilities and the associated costs specifically identified and measurable to support CI operations, investigations, collection, analysis, and production. AFOSI is also the Executive Agent for the Air Force Polygraph Examination and Technical Surveillance Countermeasures programs. The program also funds the CI support to six Combatant Commands and Defense Agencies. Additionally, the program funds portions of DC3, for which the Air Force serves as Executive Agent with AFOSI as the Program Manager. DC3 provides digital forensic analysis of computer media crime investigations training and research, development, testing and validation for digital forensic tools for both Air Force and Department of Defense criminal investigative and counterintelligence organizations. The Air Force Liaison Office (Investigation Processing Center) and the Air Force Central Adjudication Facility (AFCAF) are resourced through this Subactivity Group. AFCAF is the sole organization responsible for rendering security determination for the Air Force and supports the Air Force at every operational echelon. Details on classified programs are provided separately upon request.

II. Force Structure Summary:

The AFOSI program's force structure includes 168 CONUS regions, squadrons, detachments, operating locations and 65 overseas regions, squadrons, detachments, and operating locations.

Fiscal Year (FY) 2026 Budget Estimates
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force
Budget Activity: Administration and Servicewide Activities
Activity Group: Support to Other Nations
Detail by Subactivity Group: International Support

I. Description of Operations Financed:

Operations support the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE), North Atlantic Treaty Organization Airborne Early Warning and Control (NATO AEWG) program, Cooperative Defense Initiative program, and other international headquarters. The Technology Transfer Program, which controls the transfer of critical Air Force technologies to foreign governments, is also included in this Subactivity Group. The Support to Other Nations Program supports mil-to-mil and civ-to-civ engagements with Latin American countries that include participation by 12th Air Force, United States Air Force Academy, and Deputy Under Secretary of the Air Force for International Affairs; payment of fees for International Cooperation Administration Support Services provided by Department of State for Air Force personnel located overseas, and travel support to the Inter-America Defense Board and College. International Activities provides for the management and implementation of International Cooperative Research, Development, and Acquisition (ICRDA) agreements with NATO and major non-NATO allies to significantly improve U.S. and allied conventional defense capabilities. These cooperative efforts build relationships with international partners, increase interoperability and enhance coalition capabilities. Funding supports U.S. Air Force International Armaments Cooperation activities to identify beneficial cooperative Research Development projects and to develop, process, negotiate, and oversee international agreements for projects relating to air, space and cyberspace. Funding supports partnership building capacities and U.S. Air Force training, encompassing a mil-to-mil engagement with Poland through the rotation of U.S. aircraft and Poland's aviation detachment. The U.S. is responsible for approximately one third of the multi-national Strategic Airlift Capability (SAC) program overall program. Funding contributes to aircraft maintenance, training, personnel, and operational support costs. The program provides a full range of strategic and tactical airlift to each nation in support of NATO, European Union (EU), and United Nations (UN) military operations.

II. Force Structure Summary:

This Subactivity Group's force structure supports ten international activities, six international headquarters, one main operating base, and 17 NATO aircraft to build enduring relationships with global air forces to support mutual security interests.
